WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, April 23, 1894

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

The free traders in the Senate have become discouraged, because of the revolt in their own party, the broad sides poured into them by the republicans during the general debate on the tariff bill, which is to close tomorrow, and the unmistakable trend of public sentiment against the present bill, that they have opened negotiations with the revolting democratic Senators which, it is believed, will end in their complete and abject surrender. Republicans have not, of course, been made acquainted with the exact nature of these negotiations, but enough has leaked out to cause many to believe that the income tax is be to dropped and the present tariff bill practically abandoned, something like the old Mills' bill being substituted therefore.

The impression left by the representative of the National Workingmen's Protective Tariff League—more than 1000 in number—who met in convention here Saturday, has been decidedly good. The democrats of the Senate Finance committee refused to hear their personal protests against the tariff bill, but they were compelled to hear them read on the floor of the Senate by Senator Quay, and the members of the League occupied the galleries of the Senate as pleased listeners. These men and women did not come here to attempt to coerce Congress by threatening to remain in Washington until some absurd demands were complied with, as Coxey's army proposes to do, but merely in the exercise of their rights as American citizens to protest against being deprived of their bread and butter by vicious legislation; and having filed their protest they quietly returned to their homes. They neither walked nor came on free railroad transportation, but on tickets purchased with the money of the laborers they came to represent. Nor did they ask donations of food; they paid for everything they got, as self-respecting people usually do. Washington people will be glad to see them again under happier circumstances.

There are times when nothing but plain talk will fill the bill, and Senator Hawley thought one of these times was at hand when he replied to the extraordinary speech of Senator Allen, of Nebraska, in favor of the Peffer resolution, which provides for the formation of a new Senate committee to hear the petitions of Coxey's army and similar organizations. Senator Hawley paid particular attention to Mr. Allen's denunciation of the laws which prohibit parades in Washington without permission of the authorities, and the marching of any organized body of men across any portion of the Capitol grounds, laws which Mr. Hawley declared to be right and proper and said would be enforced to the letter. But the most striking part of Mr. Hawley's speech was the conclusion in these words, calmly and deliberately uttered: "I am sorry to say, that the speech of the Senator from Nebraska was one that would have been received with tumultous applause in a meeting of anarchists. It had in, it not requiring a microscope, but visible to the naked eye, the bacteria and bacili of anarchy." Rough but deserved.

Representative Boen populist of Minnesota has introduced a resolution in the House directing the Secretary of War to furnish camping grounds and tents for all organized bodies of "laboring people" who may come to Washington to obtain "redress from Congress." The result of the adoption of a resolution no man can tell. But there isn't even a possibility that Mr. Boen's resolution will get even a score of votes in the House, if it ever comes to a vote at all. Those who are coming to Washington expecting to be taken care of by Congress would better turn back.

Senator Gallinger's declaration that the tariff bill is

Halting on crutches of unequal size,
One leg by truth supported, one by lies,

Thus sidle to the goal with awkward pace

Secure of nothing but to lose the race, can hardly be called classic poetry; but as a truthful description of the present condition of the bill it would be difficult to surpass it in the same number of words.

The democrats of the House profess to be greatly surprised because the republicans are making the regular appropriation bills the basis for showing up the absurd blunders of this blundering administration, and they are actually talking of having the committee on rules bring in a rule with each appropriation bill to limit debate thereon. It is surpassing that the democrats should object to having their unfitness to be in charge of the government continually referred to, but it would certainly be surprising if the republicans of the House neglected any opportunity for keeping that fact before the country.

Mr. C. K. Hicklen departed Tuesday evening for a trip to Philadelphia.

Inexpensive Pleasures.

The comparatively cheap pleasures seem to be the best in life generally, says Harper's Weekly. There is so very little that the very rich can buy for themselves that need stir envy in people who are just comfortably off. Warmth is such a delightful thing in winter, but you and I can get as much as we want of it, and a millionaire can have no more. And there are so many cheap, ordinary things to eat that are just as good or better than the expensive things. An epicure who lives in the western part of this state was saying the other day that, having a particular dinner in view, he sent to a judicious man in New York for the best fish that the market offered. They sent him a fresh cod, and he admitted that no fish could be better and moralized (those are his remarks above) on the comparative cheapness of the fleshy gratifications that were really best, such as potatoes and chickens and fresh air, and tea and water (warm and cold) and soap and sleep. When one considers how good a big five-cent sandwich tastes when he is really hungry, and how little difference there is between good wine and good water when it has once passed one's gullet, and how much of that difference is in favor of the water, it really lends a dangerous charm to economy and simple living, and makes one wonder that thrift is not more catching and that the delights of avarice should be so generally monopolized by the aged.

One of the cases where a cheap article is often at least as good as a dear one is in the matter of sons-in-law. How often it happens that the plain, cheap son-in-law who exacts no bonus and even in most cases contributes to his wife's support, turns out in the end to be really more valuable and satisfactory than the bankrupt loafer prince who costs a million or two at the start and all that he can lay his hands on afterward.

Bicycles and Fires.

The construction of a bicycle intended for use by fire departments shows how a vehicle that it was supposed was only adapted to sports can be applied to practicle everyday uses. It has a chemical engine and a light axe, instruments that in many cases are all that are needed to subdue a fire if they are at hand.

In some cities of Europe a part of the fire department is a swift horse saddled and bridled with a chemical apparatus for subduing fires and an axe attached, and an expert rider ready to spring on the horse's back the moment an alarm is sounded and ride swiftly to the scene of the fire. He can reach the fire some seconds or minutes before the heavy, lumbering fire engine can get there and often this saving of time is of the greatest value and the rider's services are all that are needed in checking what otherwise might become a disastrous conflagration. This feature of the fire department is one of the means by which so many fires in Europe are confined to the room or building in which they start.

A cicycle has advantages over the horses for this kind of services. It can travel as swiftly, is easier handled at the scene of the fire, requires but little care and no food and is especially adapted to small towns and suburban districts. Every second gained in reaching a fire just beginning and in applying the remedies is of the utmost importance. If it is promptly extinguished it may save thousands if not millions of dollars' worth of property. If the bicycle can be used in this way it will add one more element to its popularity.

THE collapse of the Brazilian rebellion is complete. The news of the destruction of the Aquidaban by a government torpedo boat and of the surrender of de Mello and five of his remaining vessels to the Argentine Republic has been officially confirmed. Lack of resources is the reason assigned by de Mello for his abandonment of the contest. This reason should have been sufficient to prevent him from engaging in his ill-starred rebellion, for his resources at the beginning consisted solely of a few stolen warships, without a basis of supplies and without the recognition of belligerent rights by any foreign power. This is an insufficient basis for any sane man to inaugurate an armed rebellion upon, and there need be no more surprise than regret that the attempt has resulted in a complete and disastrous failure.

Commencement Day Orator.

Hon. A. O. Furst, of Bellefonte, President Judge of the Centre-Huntingdon district, who is a candidate for re nomination will be the commencement orator before the Belles Letters Literary Society at Dickenson Seminary, Williamsport, in June. Judge Furst is a deep thinker, and a speaker of a rare force and ability. He has been heard in this city on a number of occasions, and a highly regarded on and off the bench.—Williamsport Breakfast Table.

GIRL HIGHWAYMEN.

Twelve Pole Ridge Terrorized By Well Known Young Women.

Huntingdon, W. Va., April 22.—One of the wildest regions in West Virginia, with a bad name as a dangerous territory for travelers, is a great ridge between Twelve Pole and Toms creek, in Wayne county, about twenty miles south of this city. The road traversing this ridge has been traveled but little, and then only on horseback. Since midwinter there have been periodic robberies committed along this route, and during the past six weeks several horsemen have been held up. The later series of robberies bave been committed by two foot pads, working together, one holding the victim in hand under cover by a rifle at close range, and the other "fishing" the unfortunate.

Last night Wm. Ballangee was riding rapidly over the ridge route, homeward bound, with a hundred dollars in his possession. He was just beginning to count his money safe when his horse shied violently and he regained his balance in the saddle to confront a rifle in the hands of a figure at the roadside, who covered him and ordered him to throw his hands up. Ballangee had his wits with him, and while he obeyed orders to avoid the consequences of a possible mistake, he made up his mind that the robber with the gun was a girl. When the other one stepped up to take his cash he was dead sure the footpad was a female. They got his roll.

But Ballangee came in and reported that the mysterious masked robbers were women. To-day's investigations were that the terrors of Twelve Pole ars Misses Ella and Tiro Gorre, daughters of a respectable farmer. Their own people were thunderstruck when the charge was brought home, but it is a clear case. The girls have no particular mania for money, but they masqueraded in male attire and cornered a lot of cash, solely for the sport of it. This is the end of the terrible Toms Creek ridge gang and the girls will probably be prosecuted.

Terrific Earthquakes.

Athens, April 23.—The earthquake shocks that began at 7.30 o'clock Friday night, continued with more or less frequency until noon yesterday. All Saturday night the oscillation of the earth was noticeable, and the people of this city were in a state of panic.

A heavy shock occurred at Proskina while vesper services were being held in the parish church. The walls of the church fell, burying all the worshipers in the ruins, and hardly a person escaped without injury. Thirty were taken out dead. Houses were thrown down in other parts of the village and the money loss is great.

At Malesino houses tottered and fell as though built of cardboard. In this little village 60 persons were killed.

At Martino 39 persons were killed. Here, as at Proskinn, the parish church was the scene of the greatest number of fatalities.

The total number of deaths thus far reported is 160, but there is scarcely any question that this number will be augmented when the more remote villages are heard from.

Great Hearts Need Sympathy.

It makes no difference how hard a boy may try to do that which is right in the eyes of his associates, there is always some unprincipled, low sneaking coward who has no respect for himself or any one else, or ever shows any signs of encouragement to assist another, but always stands ready to drag him down. Many boys fail not for the lack of merit but for lack of appreciation by his associates and companions. Great hearts are full of sympathy; and what boy does not require the sympathy and support of his associates? Failure in life is not always loss of capital in a luckless business venture. Such things are accidents that are apt to be met with by all. Failure in life is loss of self respect loss of confidence in one's own character. When you see a boy who is trying to build himself up in the world faltering, take him by the hand and help him up. When you see a boy climbing, cheer him on, that he may reach the top and stand upon the summit of success.

The Pennsylvania tramp law provides that any tramp who enters a dwelling house against the permission of the owner or even kindles a fire on road or land of another, without the owner's consent, may on conviction be sentenced to imprisonment, for the act of vagrancy, such as going about from place to place, is prima facia evidence that the offender is a tramp, and he cannot escape as such unless he can prove by satisfactory evidence that he does not make a practice of begging. A peculiarity of the Pennsylvania tramp act is the authority it gives to any person, an officer or other wise, upon view of any offense described in the act, to arrest the offender and take him before a magistrate. Every citizen and any number of citizens in the county are officers for the enforcement of this law.

National Educational Association.

The National Educational association of U. S. A., with Hon. A. G. Lane, superintendent public schools, Chicago, president Hon. J. M. Greenwood, superintendent public schools, Kansas City, treasurer; Hon. Irwin Shepard, president State Normal school, Winona, Minn., secretary, and Hon. N. A. Calkins, assistant superintendent public schools, New York, chairman of board of trustees; will hold its 1894 meeting at Asbury Park, N. J., July 6 to 13, inclusive.

Asbury Park is one of the most beautiful seaside resorts on the Atlantic coast, about 40 miles from New York city and two hours ride from Philadelphia. It has most spacious and magnificent hotel accommodation, and all members of the association will be granted half rates at hotels on presentation of their membership certificates, during the meeting.

The Trunk Line Railway association, including all eastern railways, has granted a half rate, plus $2, N. E. A. membership free from all points in the territory of the association (except from points within 100 miles from Asbury Park, where a cheap summer excursion rate is available) The tickets will be good to return until Sept, 1. if deposited with the railway joint agent at Asbury Park during the meeting.

The western roads have all been asked to grant the same rates and are now acting through other associations on the question, and without doubt will make the same rate as the Trunk Line association. There will be the very finest facilities for sea bathing, boat riding and caostwise excursions, on the ocean, as well as the most quiet retreat.

The local committee are planning to make the teacher's visit at Asbury Park one of the most pleasant events of their lives. The programme of the association meeting will be made up of addresses and lectures by men and women of national renown as educators and orators.

For official bulletin, containing full official programme regarding hotel and railway rates and routes, and for further particulars, address, S. Sherin, secretary local executive committee, Asbury Park, N. J.

Harrity Wants Uniformity.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 23.—Secretary Harrity to-night mailed letters to the chairmen of the state Republican, Democratic, Prohibition and Peoples party committees, in which he states that it is desired to have uniformity in the matter of stating or describing the office for which nominations shall be made to the state department and suggesting that the following designations will be proper and appropriate:

"For governor, for lieutenant governor, for auditor-general, for state treasurer, for secretary of internal affairs, for representative-at-large in congress, for representative in congress, for senator in the general assembly, for representative in the general assembly, for judge of the supreme court, for judge of the court of common pleas, for associate judge of the court of common pleas, for judge of the orphans court."

In order to promote the desired uniformity Secretary Harrity requests that several chairmen communicate this suggestion to the county chairmen and others identified with their party organization, so that their certificates of nomination and nomination papers reaching the state department shall be as nearly uniform as practicable.

Copies of the letters will be mailed to the commissioners of the various counties.

When You Put Away Stoves.

This is the season when people begin to put away their stoves for the summer, and at least one-half of those who do so will find next fall that the stoves which have been stored in good order in the spring are half ruined by the rust in the fall. Most persons regard this as a sort of a dispensation of providence to be endured with uncomplaining resignation, but in reality it is the result of ignorance and carelessness. When a stove is taken down in the spring to be put away for the summer, a pan of kerosene oil should be in readiness, and to every part of the stove the oil should be liberally applied with a brush or rag. Be sure to reach every seam joint and rivet, then cover up the stove with old newspapers, and go your way with a clear conscience, for when you take off the wrapping in the fall there will not be a particle of rust anywhere on your heating apparatus.

—The Hon. M. J. Fanning will deliver a temperance lecture in the court house on Thursday evening, May 10th. There will be no admission fee charged and everybody is invited.

WHY WOOL DROPPED.

Eli Perkins Explains the Reason for the Decline in Prices.

"When I was in Australia and Thibet a year ago," said Eli Perkins, "I found why the price of wool fell in the United States inspite of the McKinley Tariff of 10 cents a pound."

"What caused this?" was asked.

"It was the wonderful increase of sheep in Australia."

"What caused this increase?"

"A mania struck England to raise sheep in Australia. Thousands of young English men went there and established sheep ranches. It was the fad. Englishmen were crazy to put their money into sheep ranches in Australia. The climate is mild there and sheep thrived. The lambs all lived. Shepherds could be had for $5 a week and rations. When I was there Australia already had 70,000,000 sheep and a population of only 4,000,000 people."

"And how many sheep were there in the United States?"

"We had only 45,000,000 sheep and 65,000,000 people. This made too many sheep and too much wool for the world's market. The result was wool went down in Thibet, India, Circassia, Australia and finally all over the world."

"What was wool worth then?"

"Why, cargoes were shipped from Australia and Thibet for from 7 to 13 cents a pound. As soon as they paid the 10 cents duty to get it into the United States these foreign wools were worth from 17 to 23 cents-the price of our wool."

"Then our wool was 10 cents a pound higher than Thibet wool?"

"Certainly. The wool fell in value in the United States on account of the immense crop of wool made on cheap public lands in Australia, but our wool has always been 10 cents a pound higher than foreign wool. The McKinley bill has benefited our farmers. When the Wilson bill takes off this duty you will see our wool will be only worth as much as cheap Australian wool, with the freight added. When Mr. Wilson talks about free woo increasing the price of wool in America he is talking foolishness. Wilson says 'free wool will enable our manufacturers to send cloth to Europe.'"

"Will it do this?"

"No; we will never ship one yard of cloth or one knit, or one yard of carpet to Europe till we have their low wages-yes, less than their low wages-because we will have to pay the freight. A child can see that. The American farmer sees the awful drop of wool since the Wilson bill came out, and he will soon have an object lesson by seeing his wool competing with wool worth just 10 cents a pound less than his has been."

A Great Race.

There are two questions that have had a great run. It is a problem as to which will come out ahead. The horse which had the start is popularly known as "McKinley Prices;" all the necessaries of life were to be increased in cost to the people of the United States by the McKinley Tariff. It has been running since 1890; whereabouts on the track is it now? The other horse is named "Better Times." It was entered in 1892 and has been running over a year. It was backed by Cleveland and the Democratic party and a great many workingmen staked their last dollar on the nag. Great anxiety pervades the public to discover what necessaries of life have been increased in cost by the McKinley Tariff and in what respect the times have been improved by a Democratic Administration. The race between these two horses is still on; they are running neck and neck and the outcome is in painful doubt.—Burlington Hawkeye, March 8, 1894.

There is no doubt about the outcome. "McKinley Prices" is a thoroughbred, by Labor out of Capital. "Better Times" is a misnomer. He is a Roarer, by Fraud out of Wind Bag. The race will be finished in November, 1894, when "McKinley Prices" will be leading out of sight, and the old Roarer's Wind Bag will have exploded. He wont be in it.

That Dollar Wheat.

Farmers may well remember the fall of 1892, when, during the Presidential campaign, they were told by the Free Trade party that all they need do in order to secure dollar wheat was to vote for Grover Cleveland for President and for every other candidate of the same political faith. Some farmers believed this dollar wheat promise and voted as they were directed. They are now reaping their harvest, as the March 12 report of the Statistican of the Department of Agriculture points out in the following words:

The returns of the correspondents of the department throughout the great wheat surplus States indicate a new factor in the consumption of wheat—viz, the feeding of the same to hogs and other stock, a fact due, as declared, to the unprecedentedly low prices, the claim being made that this mode of disposing of the cereal is profitable as compared with marketing it for human food.

College Township Heard From.

COLLEGE TOWNSHIP, April 23, 1894.

MR. EDITOR:—In last week's issue of THE REPUBLICAN we notice a communication from Howard with reference to the Judgeship and suggesting the nomination of Clement Dale, Esq., for that important position we regard the suggestion as a sensible one and heartily acquiesce in the sentiment of the writer. This is Mr. Dale's native township. He is a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in this part of the county. We have been acquainted with him from boyhood and know that his course has always been honorable, upright and consistent; his habits thoughtful and studious. Since he has been a member of the bar we have watched his progress with interest and have had the satisfaction of seeing his practice constantly increasing and his favor with the people steadily growing. His character is beyond reproach; his business integrity beyond question. As a counsellor we believe him safe, because he is a careful and pains taking student. We believe if he were to become a candidate for Judge he would receive general and enthusiastic support from his old friends and neighbors in this section of the county, because we think, as a man and a judge, he would be a credit and an honor not only to his native township but to the whole county.

ANOTHER OLD TIME REPUBLICAN.

Y. M. C. A. Convention.

A number of Bellefonters expect to be in attendance at the annual convention of the Young Men's Christian associations of the Altoona district, which is to be held in Huntingdon on Saturday and Sunday next. The programme will be as follows:

SATURDAY MORNING SESSIONS.

9.30—Devotional service.
10.30—Organization,
11.00—Bible reading.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

1.30—Prayer service.
2.00—Conversation. "How to organize in small towns."
2.45—Bible reading.
3.45—Conversation, "What is being done for young men."
(a) At organized points.
(b) At unorganized points.
(c) What more can be done.

EVENING SESSION—First M. E. Church.

7.30—Song service.
8.00—State work.
8.30—Testimony meeting.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

9.00 a. m.—Covenant meeting, United Brethren church.

4.00 p. m.—Men's meeting, Second Methodist.

4.00—Women's meeting, Baptist church.

7.30—Union farewell service, Presbyterian church.

The people of Huntingdon are prepared to take care of all delegates that may go. The district committee would urge large attendance of young men both from associations and from points where there are no associations.

Delegates on their arrival at Huntingdon will go directly to the Lutheran church, corner Sixth and Mifflin streets, where they will receive their assignments.

Rev. M. L. Ganoe's Lecture.

The audience which assembled in the opera house on Tuesday evening to hear Rev. M. L. Ganoe lecture on "A Boy in the War, or The Funny Side of Soldier Life," was not half as large as it should have been, although there was quite a crowd there. As a lecturer Rev. Ganoe is a success and as to his lecture, it can be plainly styled a master piece. It is unique and novel, something so entirely different from the average war lectures, that it not only interests, but it fairly entrances, holding an audience spell-bound from start to finish. It is filled with comic situations which gives plenty of opportunity for a good laugh. We would like to see Rev. Ganoe return to Bellefonte at some future date when it is altogether certain that he would be greeted with a much larger audience.

Claims of a Potter Countian.

Patriot: A resident of Potter county claims to have discovered a rich vein of silver ore in that county and has written to the department of internal affairs to ascertain what share the finder of such mineral is entitled to under the laws of the commonwealth, and also to ascertain whether there is a state assayer who is authorized to analyze specimens of ores found in the commonwealth. Deputy Secretary Brown has notified the writer that there is no law on such subjects as these, but that if he owns the land on which the ore is found he undoubtedly owns the silver.

GENERAL NEGLEY'S VALISE.

It Contained $56,000 in Railway Bonds, Besides Other Valuable Papers.

New York, April 19.—The police of the West Thirtieth street station stumbled across a valise this evening containing valuable papers and railway bonds with evidence that they were stolen. On Tuesday a woman who lives in Madison avenue called at the station and made complaint that her man servant had disappeared, taking with him a valuable gold watch. She said the man was recommended to her through a Sixth avenue intelligence office, where detectives learned that he had no money, but offered a bond of the New Castle and Northern Railway Company of the face value of $1,000 in lieu of the $2 fee generally charged.

The detectives were also told that there was a huge valise over in the man's room in the Madison avenue house. They went there and found the valise stuffed full of papers, books, pamphlets and bonds. The papers and bonds had evidently been stolen from General and ex-Congressman James S. Negley, of Plainfield, the President of the company. There were 55 6 per cent bonds of the New Castle and Northern Railway of Pennsylvania, made out in the name of James Negley. The bonds have a face value of $56,000.

Another paper was a commission appointing Mr. Negley a major general of volunteers and signed by President Lincoln and Edwin M. Stanton. A life insurance policy for $1,000 on the Aetna Company, of Hartford, in the name of James S. Negley, Jr., was also among the papers. The junior Mr. Negley is manager of the Veteran Soldiers' Home at Pittsburg. Detectives are hunting high and low for the dishonest servant.

Eight Persons Killed.

Perry, O. T., April 19.—News of a terrible fight between the notorious outlaws, Bill Dalton and Bill Doolan, and another outlaw, and a number of deputy Marshals, about forty miles east of here, near Ewen mountain, last night, was received here this morning by messengers. The three outlaws and a woman and her little girl were shot dead, as were also two deputy marshals.

The marshals met Bruce Miller, one of the gang, and the fight commenced. Bill Dalton and Bill Doolan were near by when the fight commenced and went to Bruce Miller's assistance and a regular fight took place. The messengers left the place of conflict last night. They say that eight persons in all had been killed and the latest news from the field of conflict is that a running fight is still in progress, and it looks very much as though the outlaw gang would be swept out of existence. The price for Bill Dalton's capture dead or alive is $2,500 and the price for Bill Doolan's head is $1,500.

Stocking the Streams.

Harrisburg, Pa., April 19.—The Pennsylvania fish commission is doing much to replenish fished out streams. Monday it sent its car out from the hatchery loaded with 193,000 young trout for distribution, divided as follows among the various counties: Westmoreland, 32,000; Cambria, 45,000; Huntingdon, 8,000; Blair 5,000; Jefferson, 7,000; Clearfield, 66,000, Centre, 6,000; Warren, 11,000, and Crawford, 12,000. The Allentown hatchery has done its share towards restocking the streams of the eastern counties. Although the date for the opening of the trout season is given as April 15, a proviso of the law is made that fishing on Sunday is forbidden under penalty of a fine of $25, which thus delayed the opening for one day, and gave the strict Sabbath observer an equal chance with his less particular neighbor.

Hidden Merit.

Natural modesty keeps many a valuable man in the shade. How can he correctly estimate his own abilities or to be sure that the world stands in need of them? He sees no more instances of people who over-rate themselves, and rush into conspicuousness only to find they had nothing worth offering after all, that he may well cherish for himself that reticence which hesitates to push his own power or performances into notice. Nevertheless the calculable loss to the world which thus ensues may in great measure be prevented by men and women of a different type. For, if there are some who are distinguished by their powers of performance, there are others who are equally distinguished by their power in bringing merit into notice. There are a large class who are rich in resources, in executive talent, in the organized power, in that knowledge of the world which enables them to detect its needs and to supply them, to discover special gifts and abilities, and to direct them into needed channels. This power is as much an endowment as any other, and brings with it its own duties and responsibilities.

Beech Creek Reaching out.

Greensburg, Pa., April 19.—The Pennsylvania Railroad company and the Vanderbilts with their Beech Creek road have been sparring over certain territory lying northeast, but not until today was war declared. The Vanderbilt people secretly sent out an engineer corps and located a line from Mahaffey, Clearfield county, the western terminus of the Beech Creek road to Crab Tree, the terminus of Pennsylvania branch. A Pennsylvania official said that there would be trouble and that his company would make a fight against the Beech Creek. It is stated that the Vanderbilts will proceed at once to build the road. It will be about sixty-five miles long, running through Clearfield, Indiana and a part of Westmoreland counties. It will reach undeveloped coal lands.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS

Women having now in Colorado the right to vote, even those who regard woman as the inferior of man find in her supposed inferiority an additional reason why she should have the ballot. A Denver magazine says:

The woman with her little vote is disturbing the politician's little game. He has a new element to deal with, and it will be a long day before he will know what to expect from it. Meanwhile the wire-pullers among the women's clubs to one party or the other. At their meetings they weep and scold. They are finding the limitations of their powers as a reform element in politics, even before they have an opportunity to exercise them; those limits being set, first by their own deficiencies in wisdom and goodness, next by life failings in their fellows, the men. It may be disguised with such words as "spheres," and "cradles," and "homes," but the fact still insists on recognition that women are inferior mentally and morally. Men have come to their superior condition partly through practice in ruling, in being the boss. Other things have aided them, but it seems probable that the continued effort to live up to the superior position to which God has called them—and even socially man has ruled woman, giving her that deference only which his positions enabled him to afford without loss of self-respect—this long continued struggle, being king, to be a good one, has refined and elevated the nature of man. How excellent the plan then, to let woman into politics and give to her this same opportunity for spiritual and intellectual exaltation!

—The Troy, Pa., Northern Tier Gazette says: The severing of the relations between Rev. Ira C. Mitchell and the Disciple church, will remove from our midst a scholarly and pleasant gentleman, an active Christian worker and a family who have made many friends during their brief sojourn here.

—The seventeen-year locusts are scheduled to appear this year. 1889 was the regular date for their appearance, but it is said the big flood of that year drowned the pests out and it has taken them five years to recover sufficient strength and courage to again venture forth.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

From all sections of this great country. No city so large, no village so small, but that some woman has sent us her words of joyful thanks for health restored.

From San Francisco Mrs. Detwiler writes, from her Laurel Ave. home, that she unwisely left her room all too soon when her baby was born.

The result was an aggravated case of displacement of the womb that wholly prostrated her.

The doctors tried medicines, apparatus, and she suffered everything.

"I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The effect was wonderful, and, thanks alone to her, I am now well."

Mrs. Kate Morris, 100 Mulberry St., New York, says:—

"For years I suffered with womb trouble. I was so sick and nervous that I could not stand or sit, the pains through my back made me crazy. I tried several doctors but found no relief. I was advised to try your Vegetable Compound. I did, and to-day I am a well woman."

From far-away Texas comes word from Mrs. Jennie Arthur of the town of Taylor:

"I did not know what rest was for months. I was so dizzy and faint at times I thought I was dying, and, oh, how my back did ache! I am a living witness of the miraculous effects of Mrs. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Relief came with it at once. I sleep all night, and am now as well as ever in my life."

From the great state of Pennsylvania, Mrs. L. Travis, of Thurlow, tells a similar story of utter misery resulting from womb trouble; all the fearful results of this dread trouble was upon her when the Lydia Pinkham Vegetable Compound came to change the whole current of her life, and she ends up her letter by declaring: "I owe all to you." Thousands of other names are here. Let your faith lead you to the certain remedy for all your troubles. Your druggist has it for you.

A SLOW DEATH.

The Coke Strike Still Lives and Trouble is Expected.

Uniontown, Pa., April 18.—If the coke strike is dying, it is having a slow death. All over the rigions nearly there are men as determined and uncompromising as at the beginning of the movement. It is held that the quietness is only a bluff, and further that there will be a grand uprising in compliance with orders for a general strike for April 21. The sullen outbreaks are evidence of this.

To night sheriff W. H. Wilhelm issued a call for twenty-five good men. They are to be put on guard at the Olive plant to morrow morning, when 100 ovens will be fired. The company expected to fire this morning, but the strikers assembled around in such a threatening manner that not a move was made. The Huns held a meeting last night and decided not to allow the plant to start.

Supt. Martin Meagher of the Wheeler and Morrell works of the Cambria Iron Company has made information before Justice John N. Dawson against forty of the strikers, who where in the mob that committed the depredations at Morrell on Monday, April 16, when Charles Semans, Joseph Ashton and Thomas Gilmore were beaten. The information charges the strikers with unlawfully assembling on the grouds of the Cambria Iron Company, with the interfering with the workmen who were willing and anxious to go to work, and with aseaulting the workmen named above. They are also charged with destroying portions of the company's property. The list of names includes many women, young and old. Deputy Sheriff Richards and a posse of deputies this morning arrested five of them, but the others escaped. Five are now in jail.

Gussie Got Into Trouble.

Philadelphia, April 19.—Gussie Clark, a woman of the town, had an experience at her lodgings this evening with a male visitor that may make her more careful in the future how she invites men to call upon her. One night last week Gussie was introduced to a nice young man whom she invited to come and see her at her rooms. Tonight the nice young man called and Gussie was pleased to see him and did her best to be entertaining. In an unlucky moment she turned her back upon her caller and he promptly sandbagged her and while she was unconscious robbed her of her jewelry and money she had. The man escaped and as the woman does not know his name the only benefit she derived from the acquaintance is a badly swelled head which the doctors at the hospital tonight are trying to reduce to its normal size.

Army Signalling By The Heliograph.

By recent order of Secretary of War Lamont, all State institutions where regular army officials are stationed for the purpose of giving instructions in military tactics a certain number of cadets are to be chosen to constitute a signal corps and receive instruction in the various methods of army signalling by means of the heliograph. Lieutenant McCaskey, of State College, has received from the War Department two instruments. The surrounding country is especially adapted for work in this line. Signal stations have been established on some of the neighboring mountains, and messages transferred with remarkable accuracy for a distance of twenty miles. This instrument was first advantageously employed as a means of signalling in the East at the Homestead riots.

The Chinese Treaty.

Washington, April 19.—Senator White, of Louisville, who favors the ratification of the new Chinese treaty, mentions this as one of its meritorious features:

"The provision whereby the United States agrees to furnish annually to China the names of our citizens, including missionaries who reside there, is in effect a guarantee by the Chinese empire that the Americans will not be disturbed. Missionaries need have no solicitude hereafter. While the Chinese government is not friendly to American residents, the effect of the provision is to make it liable pecuniarily and otherwise, for injuries to our people there. The Chinese do not enjoy paying damages.

Mark Twain's Failure.

New York, April 19—Counsel for the assignee of Charles L. Webster & Co., in which Samuel L. Clemens, "Mark Twain" is a special partner, said this afternoon that it was impossible to arrive at an exact statement of affairs of the firm at so early a date, but a hasty examination of the books indicated that the liabilities would amount to more than $100,000, with assets of about the same amount. He had already received assurance from some of the creditors that some arrangements could be made for continuing the business and he hoped to have the affairs of the firm settled in a short time.

—The necessary machinery is being put in the axe works building at Axe Mann for the manufacture of the Jenkins patent spring tooth garden rake. Messrs. William R. Jenkins and J. Fearon Mann, the proprietors, propose pushing the manufacture of their new patent for all it is worth, and we predict for them great success. They have certainly a good invention and one that is always in demand.

—Tyrone will have a big Fourth of July. The Friendship Hook and Ladder company proposes to make it a glorious and gala day. In the morning there will be a grand parade of home and visiting fire companies, and for the afternoon and evening the company has engaged the 100 Springs Park, where a big picnic and jollification will be held.

HELD UP BY ROBBERS.

An Adams Express Driver Is Relived of Money Packages Cantaining $600.

Pottsville, Pa., April 19.—This afternoon at 3 o'clock Adams Express Driver Clifford White, driving from Cemetery station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, two miles down the mountain, to Mahanoy City, was held up by two highway men. One man held the horses and covered Clifford with a revolver while the other relieved him of two express money packages containing $600, his watch and chain and several dollars in change. The robbers were thought to have followed the money from Philadelphia, and, as several men got off the train at Cemetery, they could readily have ran ahead and met the expressman in the woods.

Officials, as usual, are reticent, and it is thought that the amount secured was larger, running up to several thousand dollars. The road between Cemetery and Mahanoy City is through dense woods on the mountain, with no houses, and the robbers had no difficulty in escaping. The two money packages were delivered at Cemetery by the Adams Express messenger, who left Philadelphia at about 10 a. m. enroute for Wilkesbarre and left here at 1. 50. Cemetery is the only station for Mahanoy City that the Pennsylvania has and is located on the top of Broad mountain.

Dr. Krauskopf Will Lecture in Bellefonte.

Dr. Krauskopf, a Jewish Rabbi, of Philadelphia, and who is noted world wide as being one of the greatest reformers of this country, will be in Bellefonte and lecture in Garman's opera house on Wednesday, May 9th, 1894. This Doctor of Divinity is not only a profound scholar but he is a most able orator and his lecture will be one of the best that has ever been heard in Bellefonte.

The proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to the benevolent object of fixing up the Jewish cemetery. It is to be hoped that all our people will turn out and hear this learned gentleman talk, thus at the same time being entertained, benefited and contributing to a good cause. This is the first time that our Jewish fellow citizens have ever asked the patronage of the public for any object whatever, and as this occasion is for such a worthy purpose it is to be hoped the opera house will be crowded that evening.

If at all possible arrangements will be made with the Pennsylvania, the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and the Bellefonte Central railroad companies to run special return trains after the lecture. Tickets for the lecture will be but fifty cents, and will be on sale at Joseph Bros. Store, William Lyons, Lyon & Co., Faubles, and Lewins. Buy one or more and be sure to attend.

—Next Friday is the day Bellefonte will celebrate as Arbor day.

—West Clearfield had a twenty thousand dollar fire on Wednesday. One entire business block was destroyed.

—Hon. Galusha A. Grow will deliver the Memorial day address at Antietam, and Gen. Beaver may also be there.

—A new postoffice has been established at Hannah, this county, and the office at Tipton, Blair county, has been discontinued.

—South Philipsburg now wants a postoffice and the necessary application has been made to the postoffice department at Washington.

—Merchantile appraiser, T. O. Hosterman, of Millheim, has about completed his work of making the annual appraisement for this year.

—The Lewisburg Journal says Frank L. Dersham has declined the appointment of postal agent on the route from Lewisburg to Bellefonte.

—It is announced on good authority that Robert M. Foster, of State College, will be one of the democratic candidates for the legislature the coming campaign. Bob is a hustler and a strict party man.

—John Elefson, a Sweede, was murdered at Grass Flat, near Peale, on Wednesday. Swan Nelgren, also a Sweede, was arrested on Suspicion of having committed the crime and is now lodged in the Clearfield jail.

—Mr. C. F. Montgomery is having a very large and ornmental flower bed laid out on his lawn on East Linn street. When completed, planted in flowers and they are in full bloom, it cannot help but look very handsome, indeed.

—The Morning News, a new paper put out by the striking union printers at Williamsport, has found its way to our desk. It is a very presentable little sheet and, we hope, may grow in size and influence as it grows in age.

—There seems to be very little difference this year between the stories fishermen tell and the stories told other years. Every man who has been out caught a bigger string than the other fellows. Of course, that is customary, you know.

—But didn't Pat. Meeney put up a great game for Harrisburg on Wednesday? Pat. is one of the rising ball tossers of the day, and we would not be a bit surprised to hear soon of some of the National clubs bidding big money for his services.

Mr. David Kelley, of this place, departed on Wednesday morning for the Quaker City, where he has been appointed to a clerkship in the customs department. Dave is a bright young man and we have no doubt he will succeed admirably in his new position.

—Next Fall's election will be a very important one. Centre countians will vote for a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, auditor general, congressman, two members of the legislature, president judge and one associate judge—all big fat offices and well worth pulling for; and, of course, there will be lots of fellows willing to make the pull.

—Wednesday evening about eight o'clock George Williams, Herbert Shaeffer, Doc. Underwood and Harry Gerberich started on their wheels for a run to Milesburg. When they arrived there they were just getting warmed up so they continued on down the valley and never stopped until they reched Lock Haven. They spent the night there and returned to Bellefonte on the early train this morning.

The Human Electrical Forces!

How They Control the Organs of the Body.

The electrical force of the human body, as the nerve fluid may be termed, is an especially attractive department of science, as it exerts so marked an influence on the health of the organs of the body. Nerve force is produced by the brain and conveyed by means of the nerves to the various organs of the body, thus supplying the latter with the vitality necessary to insure their health. The pneumogastric nerve, as shown here, may be said to be the most important of the entire nerve system, as it supplies the heart, lungs, stomach, bowels, etc., with the nerve force necessary to keep them active and healthy. As will be seen by the cut the long nerve descending from the base of the brain and terminating in the bowels is the pneumogastric, while the numerous little branches supply the heart, lungs and stomach with necessary vitality. When the brain becomes in any way disordered by irritability or exhaustion, the nerve force which it supplies is lessened, and the organs receiving the diminished supply are consequently weakened.

Physicians generally fail to recognize the importance of this fact, but treat the organ itself instead of the cause of the trouble The noted specialist, Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., has given the greater part of his life to the study of this subject, and the principal discoveries concerning it are due to his efforts.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, the unrivaled brain and nerve food, is prepared on the principle that all nervous and many other difficulties originate from disorders of the nerve centers. Its wonderful success in curing these disorders is testified to by thousands in every part of the land.

Restorative Nervine cures sleeplessness, nervous prostration, dizziness, hysteria, sexual debility, St. Vitus dance, epilepsy, etc. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs. It is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid.

THE KORMAN VS. MORRIS CASE.

Plaintiff's Attorneys Petition the Supreme Court for a Mandamus on Judge McPherson.

Wednesday's Philadelphia Press says: Counsel for Lyman Korman filed in the Supreme Court yesterday an application for an alternative writ of mandamus directed to John B. McPherson, Additional Law Judge of the Twelfth Judicial District, to grant a new trial in an action brought by Mr. Korman against A. G. Morris, of Tyrone, Pa., or to show cause why he should not.

The application sets out that Mr. Korman brought an action against Morris for trespass in the Common Pleas Court of Centre county, which is composed of A. O. Furst, President Judge; Thomas Reilly and C. A. Faulkner, Associate Judges. To assist in the work of the court Judge McPherson, who is the Additional Law Judge of the Twelfth District, was called in and on December 13 last Korman's cause against Morris was tried before Judges McPherson, Reilly and Faulkner and a verdict was rendered by the jury in favor of Mr. Morris.

A rule was subsequently granted upon the defendant to show cause why a new trial should not be had and the reasons in support of the motion were duly filed. This motion was argued in January before the Judges who had tried the cause and a consultation was immediately held by them, but no conclusion was reached at that time. Subsequently Judges Reilly and Faulkner wrote to Judge McPherson directing him as the presiding Judge upon the trial of the cause to grant a new trial, but on March 6 last Judge McPherson filed an opinion and decree overruling the motion, discharging the rule for a new trial and directing that judgment be entered upon the verdict on payment of the jury fees, etc., and on March 9 following, the jury fee having been paid, judgment was entered in favor of the defendant in accordance with the order of Judge McPherson, notwithstanding the order for a new trial made in writing by the Associate Judges.

In his opinion Judge McPherson set forth the fact of the order of a new trial by the Associate Judges, but held that he considered it his individual right and duty to dispose of the question.

The petitioner, Mr. Korman is advised and believes that Judge McPherson's order is void and of no effect, but nevertheless as the record now stands it is the judgment of the Court, and he is without remedy except through an order of this court directing Judge McPherson to make an order striking from the record the entry of the judgment so made and to direct a new trial in pursuance of the order and request of the Associate Judges of the said court.

Later in the day ex-Governor Beaver, representing A. G. Morris, the defendant in the suit brought by Korman, filed an answer setting up that Judge McPherson having been called in by the President Judge of the Forty-ninth District, lawfully presided at the trial of a case, and notwithstanding the contention of the defendant that there was no evidence to submit to the jury. Judge McPherson submitted the questions of fact involved to the jury, which found for the defendant.

It admits the hearing of the argument for a new trial as set out in the petition and then adds that "the defendant was informed by Judge McPherson that in view of the peculiar circumstances of the case, the plaintiff having been deprived of his sight by a premature blast at a stone quarry, that if the defendant would as a matter of grace and not as a matter of legal obligation pay the plaintiff $500 the application for a new trial would be denied and the verdict of the jury should stand. This proposition being made, as the defendant understood it, at the suggestion of one of the Associate Judges.

"The defendant promptly acceded to the suggestion, but the plaintiff refused to accept the gratuity offered him by the defendant, in accordance with the suggestion of the court."

Under these facts it is submitted that there was no sufficient ground laid for the granting of the writ prayed for, and the Court is asked to dismiss the application.

Frozen To Death.

Tuesday afternoon, says the Lock Haven Democrat, Samuel Ryan, aged about 17, was found dead in a fence corner, about fifty feet away from the barn of Eliza Schrock, between Brush valley and Sugar valley. The young fellow was in a kneeling position, with his mitten-covered hands between his knees when found.

The young man resided with his mother near Loganton. On Tuesday of last week he left home and went to a neighbors's. He left this neighbor's house while the snow storm was at its height and was not heard of since until his dead body was found yesterday. It is supposed that after he left the house he became bewildered, lost his way, and finally became exhausted in the fence corner. An inquest was held and the coroner's jury rendered a verdict of death by freezing.

Mail Your Letters at the Postoffice.

An exchange says: "There is to be no more dropping of letters into mail cars. The Postmaster General has issued an order that hereafter mail will not be taken on the railroad cars unless it first passes through the postoffice. The order was made necessary because so many business men in the neighborhood of railroad depots in all localities mailed their letters on the train to save them the trouble of going to the postoffice, and it made a large amount of extra work for the railway mail clerks. Time was taken up in stamping letters that was needed in sorting out mail between stations."

Centre Hill Jottings.

Death has again appeared in our midst and called away to his everlasting home the beloved wife of Mr. John McCoy, of the Bank. The grim monster death has left his mournful mark in a number of families of late, among them Palmers, Fousts and others.

The late snow took us all by surprise but it passed off without harm. Neither grain or fruit have suffered and as farmers were well on with their work, it caused no delay in farm operations. If our farmers could get rid of their many hundred bushels of potatoes at about 35 or 40 cents per bushel, they would be much pleased. The roads have been fine all the spring.

Politics are quiet; rather so, except on judge. Both Furst and Love have supporters while many of the temperance wing of the party would like to see Clement Dale, Esq., become a candidate. Mr. Dale is looked upon as one of the cleanest, square-toed republicans to be found, and one who in office would lean very strongly in favor of law and reform, as understood by those who look on the whiskey traffic as tending to disorder. We expect the county to be carried by the republicans again this fall—judge and all; the run is against the democrats now.

I see Jimmy Keller wants a county office now, after having run in township offices for 20 years. Why, Jimmy was a vicious democrtic kicker a few years ago, and now he wants to get to the Assembly, but mind you, he is a marked fellow by many of the unterrified. If we put up a man like James Strohm or Col. James P. Coburn, Jimmey's goose would be cooked and he could keep running for township offices like before, and keep stocking our schools with his own teachers.

If our party nominates the right kind of a man for Associate Judge, who is not pledged to liquor interests, we stand a chance to elect him.

Measles have been prevalent about here and nearly all school children had them, but the pest has about run itself out.

The funeral last Sabbath afternoon (April 8) of Mrs. John McCoy, at the cemetery here, was very largely attended.

RAMBLER.

Brady Houtz Badly Burned.

About two weeks ago Cooke Loose's saw mill, in Miles township, was destroyed by fire, in the afternoon. In the evening there yet being considerable fire around, three men were employed to watch the ruins. While lying on a plank to keep warm Brady Houtz was seized with an epileptic fit and in his struggles rolled into the fire. Before help could be given him he was so badly burned as to be unconscious. He was taken home at once and a physician summoned. The right side of his face, and especially the cheek, was roasted and burned to a crisp. The right hand was burned so badly that when the fingers were straightened out they cracked at the joints and broke loose. Several fingers on the left hand were burned in a similiar manner. Dr. Frank, of Millheim conducted the oreration in which it was found necessary to amputate the right hand at the wrist. Some of the fingers on the right hand were also amputated. The Dr. is of the opinion that all the flesh on the young man's cheek will drop off. He is otherwise burned about the body.

At this writing it is not thought that he will be able to survive owing to the serious condition of his wounds. If he should he will not only be a helpless cripple, but badly disfigured for life.

The breath of a chronic catarrh patient is often so offensive that he becomes an object of disgust. After a time ulceration sets in, the spongy bones are attacked, and frequently destroyed. A constant source of discomfort is the dripping of the purulent secretions into the throat, sometimes producing inveterate bronchitis, which is usually the exciting cause of pulmonary disease. The brilliant results by its use for years past properly designate Ely's Cream Balm as by far the best and only cure. Call upon your druggist for it.

A GREAT FEAST OF MUSIC.

In Store for the People of Bellefonte, in the Opera, "Paul Jones."

During the past season Bellefonters have enjoyed a number of musical treats of a high order, but the musical event of the season is yet to come, and will be given in Garman's opera house about the last of May or the first of June by the Bellefonte opera company. The piece selected is the opera "Paul Jones," one of Gilbert & Sullivan's best productions. It will be rendered with a full and complete cast of characters and a chorus of fifty female and male voices. The costumes and scenery will be gotten up specially for this production and will be the equal of any traveling company.

It is a well known fact that there are some very good singers in Bellefonte—in fact the local talent here is as good, if not superior, to most of the professional talent that can be feund in the larger cities. The managers of the Bellefonte opera company have already succeeded in enlisting the aid of a large number, but the list may not yet be complete. So far as now known the only place in the cast that has yet been assigned is that of Paul Jones which will be taken by Lee Woodcock. The full list of those already engaged is as follows:

Misses Mary Meek, Rosa Fox, Ella Twitmire, Kate Lundy, Henrietta Butts, Blanche Hayes, Kate Harris, Louise Valentine, Millie Smith, Nellie Meek, Grace Lukenbach, Bessie Dorworth, Lulu Harper Bernice Moore, Aurora Moore, Myra Holliday, Kate Bullock, Emma Aikens, Tessie Peters, Augusta Cryder, Sarah Bayard, Lottie Spigelmyer, Charlotta Crittenden, Reble Garman, Mame Butts, Mary Schofield, Lulu Hoy, Emma Montgomery, and Messrs. Lee Woodcock, Hard Harris, Philip Waddle, George Bayard, John Blanchard, George Meek, John Bullock, Wilbur Harris, Henry Quigley, James Harris, Malcolm Laurie, Charles Rhone, Thomas Morris, Joseph Montgomgomery, Henry Lyon, Charles Richards, Burt Bayard, Charles Dorworth, Charles Cruse and James R. Hughes.

The Dubois Courier says; A great many people will remember that Col. Breckinridge lectured at Clearfield about four years ago before the county teachers' insitute. At that time he was in high favor with Madeline Pollard, and vice versa. He did not have her along with him, but communicated with her and a copy of his message is in possession of Newt. Shaw, the well-known proprietor of the Leonard house. Mr. Shaw was careful to keep it from being made public while the trial was pending and in progress at Washington as he did not want any subpoenas sent to Clearfield. The colonel was at the Leonard house and he wanted to send a message to Madeline. He wrote it out and stepped to the hotel telephone and transmitted it to the telegraph office, leaving the original copy in the hotel office. It was picked up and preserved by Mr. Shaw. It notified Madeline that the colonel would meet her at a certain place and was signed "Many Kisses."

A Large Tumor Removed.

Last Thursday Dr. L. E. Wolf, of Millmont; Dr. Stearns, of Mifflinburg, and Dr. G. S. Frank of Millheim, performed a surgical operation on the person of Mr. Henry Brown, of Hublersburg, which was successful in every detail. For some time past Mr. Brown has suffered very much with a large tumor in the region of the stomach and it was the removal of this that the doctors undertook to do.

On examination a large tumor was found and it was attached to the inner organs. The physicians succeeded in completely removing it. The latest news from the patient is that he is doing very well and promises to be fully restored from the ailment and operation in a short time. His appetite is first class. Mr. Brown's many friends will be glad to see him home again at Hublersburg.

Drug Store Sold.

On Wednesday Dr. J. A. Thompson disposed of his drug store at this place to Messrs. J. N. and Sydney Krumrine of State College, who took charge of the business at once. Mr. Sydney Krumrine, the junior partner, took a complete course in chemistry at the Penna. State College and afterwards completed the regular course in pharmacy at the University of Pennsylvania. He is an intelligent young man and will conduct the establishment in the the best manner. Mr. Geo. Hart, who has managed this drug house for sometime past, is a thorough druggist and will remain with the new firm who are fortunate in being able to retain him.

Dr. Thompson expects to devote his attention in the future to the practice of his profession.

THE MINERS' BIG STRIKE.

It Is Now on and the Outcome Is An Unsolved Problem.

Columbus, Ohio, April 22.—Information received at the headquarters of the United Mine Workers here indicates to President McBride that at least 130,000 miners dropped their picks at noon on Saturday in obedience to the order to the national convention, two weeks ago. Telegrams from organizers in the doubtful districts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana and Illinois show, he says, that the action of the miners there has been all that could be hoped for, while many mining districts where the organization has never before been able to get a foothold sent word that they are organizing to join the strike.

The headquarters of the United Mine Workers of America here were locked today, and there were no signs that under the direction of the organization the greatest strike in the history of the coal mining industry of this country had just been inaugurated. President John McBride said he had received no significant dispatches since last night. He was asked if it was true that there was a month's supply of coal ahead as many of the operators are claiming. He replied that it probably was, on the whole. In some districts the supply was probably greater than that. "But," he said, "it will not last long. The big operators of eastern Ohio and Pennsylvania began to work their men night and day as soon as the national miners' convention resolved to strike, and did do it wherever the men could be induced to work that way. This indicates that they are not satisfied with the stock of coal on hand at the beginning of the strike."

President McBride said he had received the letter that Colonel W. P. Rend, of Chicago, said he had written him regarding the situation and proposing a conference between the miners and operators, but he declined to furnish a copy for publication. "It is conciliatory in tone," he said, "and I have received communications in a similar spirit from operators in Ohio and Pennsylvania. The operators need have no doubt, however, as to the position the miners will take as to the proposed conference. In the resolution to strike the miners' convention expressed a willingness to meet the operators in conference at any rate.

"Do you mean by that the miners' might agree to accept wages less than the scale demanded in the strike resolution.

"Oh no; not at all. The miners cannot live decently on less than the scale calls for. It cannot be done. I feel sure that we will be able to keep our men out. There may be a few small and isolated mines that will resume, but their product will not affect the strike."

A Child Wife.

Newport, Ky., April 21—A bit of tragedy came to the public last night in the police station. A frail young woman carrying a 3-weeks old baby evidently very ill, the mother also showing signs of suffering, applied for police protection from an Italian who threatened to kill her. While talking to the officer the baby grew rigid; a physician was called. He said the baby could not live an hour. The mother became frantic and was removed to the hospital. During the night she became demented.

An investigation of her history reveals an unusual story. She was married when 12 years old; was a mother at 13; divorced at 14; married again at 15; was a second time a mother at 16; divorced the third time at 17; married the third time at 19, and her third child was born three weeks ago. Her husband deserted her two months ago, and poverty and worry have brought the reward a dead baby and a shattering mind.

Bacteria Of Anarchy.

Washington, April 21—Coxey's army and the stupid but dangerous speech made about it on Thursday by Allen, the Populist senator from Nebraska, were the theme upon which Gen. Hawley, of Connecticut, made an address in the senate yesterday. Gen. Hawley has not talked much of late, but when he does his old-time vigor and fire flames forth as brilliantly as ever.

He did not stop to pick his words, but asserted that Allen's speech "Had in it, not requiring a microscope, but visible to the naked eye the bacteria and bacilli of anarchy." Referring to the alleged mission of Coxey and his army-he demanding that congress pass at once certain laws—he made short work of the idea that the congress of the United States must be influenced by bodies of men coming and clamoring at the capitol doors. "We have more authoritative advice and commands from the people of the United States than Mr. Coxey can possibly bring," said Senator Hawley, and in this one pungent sentence he put the case in a nutshell.

Mr. Hawley defended the militia of the district from reference made to it by Mr. Allen, and concluding, said:

"I am sorry to say it, but I feel bound to say it, that the speech of the senator from Nebraska was one that would have been received with tumultuous applause in a meeting of anarchists. It had in it, not requiring a miscroscope, but visible to the naked eye, the bacteria and bacilli of anarchy."

A RACE WAR.

Blacks and Whites Again at it Down in Lousianas.

Tallulah, La., April 22.—A race war is on in this section of the parish and so far one white man one and negro have been killed, one white man has been badly beaten and thirteen negroes are now in captivity charged with murder. The country is being scoured by people and every effort will be made to capture all implicated. There are between thirty and forty negroes implicated.

Friday Charles J. McFarland, the manager of the dance hall run by Thamas J. Ward, as lessee, had a difficulty with a negro tenant on the place named Josh Hopkins, in which McFarland was beaten. Friday evening a posse started in pursuit of this negro who fled. They came to Tallulah in their search and concluded to give up the attempt and return home.

McFarland and William Boce started ahead, and when they had gone as far as the Dancy residence to cross the bayou on the bridge in the front of the residence, and as they were in the act of crossing, they were fired upon from ambush and Boyce was instantly killed. McFarland escaped unhurt to the woods, where he remained until today. Boyce's body was not discovered until daylight. The other members of the posse who passed later on the road, knew nothing of Boyce's assassination. So soon as the fact was made known Sheriff McClellan, with his posse, went to the scene.

The negroes were located in the woods yesterday afternoon about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the killing. The sheriff, with about fifty deputies, surrounded the woods and went into them, capturing Harris Williams about 5 p. m. and started him out of the woods with one deputy. Just as he got to the edge of the woods three other deputies rode up and Williams broke away from his captors and ran. The deputies fired on him and killed him. Three more negroes were captured and lodged in jail.

Head and Arms Seemed on Fire

A Sunstroke Followed by Nervous Prostration

Hood's Restored Health.

Mr. Edward Scollin
Philadelphia, Pa.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Gentlemen—On August 10, I was taken to St. Joseph's hospital unconscious from the heat; my temperature was 106°. I remained in the hospital two weeks; I was unable to work for four weeks after that, but then felt compelled to turn in, as I have a wife and five children. I soon began to feel as though undergoing continuous shocks from an electric battery.

Every Nerve and Fibre

of my body seemed in a constant state of quivering agitation and tremulousness. Heat flashed from the calves of my legs up through my thighs and body; my left arm and hand felt as though on fire, and my head ached as if it would split when I stooped down. I had great pains in my back around the base of the spine. I continued to stick to my work, feeling that if I must again go down I would do so

Struggling for My Family.

I have always been athletic, but I had lost all appetite, and my strength failed me; I was on the point of giving up. I had read much about Hood's Sarsaparilla, and concluded to give it a trial. Before I had taken half a bottle my appetite became so voracious that I would be compelled to eat between meals.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Sarsaparilla has now fully restored my strength and general health. That terrible nervousness is entirely gone. I feel as hearty and vigorous as ever. The pains in my back have greatly decreased." EDWARD SCOLLIN, 1532 Ogden Street, Philadelphia.

HENRY OWEN'S STORY

A FULL ACCOUNT OF THE SUFFERINGS AND RESTORATION OF MR. AND MRS HENRY C. OWEN RELOTED TO A BLADE REPRESENTATIVE.

Most Excruciating Pain Endured-Physicians Helpless-A Remarkable and Interesting Narrative.

[From The Toledo, O., Blade.]

During the past few months there have appeared in the newspapers of the country, accounts of marvelous cures from the use of a medicine discovered by Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., and known as Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

These cases, many of them held by the medical profession as incurable, have been so frequently discussed in the newspapers, that it has led to many people using this preparation, and they invariably have had a similar statement to make. Many people have been told by their attending physician that, "there was no hope," recovery was impossible," and a little later, was announced their restoration to health and strength through the use of Favorite Remedy. Recently the following letter from a well known citizen of East Toledo, attracted the attention of the Blade:

"No 428 Euclid Ave., East Toledo, Dr. David Kennedy, Dear Sir:—I feel it a duty to write you of the benefit of your medicine Favorite Remedy, has been to my wife and myself. I suffered for years with kidney trouble, complicated with gravel in the bladder, and gall stones; at times I endured the most excruciating pain that I would have to be carried home from my business. My physician did not help me in the least; I kept growing worse. Finally Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy was brought to my notice, and I used it regularly following the suggestions found in the book wrapped about the bottle, and in a short time after that I was a well man; have never felt a return of the old troubles since.

My wife who had been a sufferer from sickness peculiar to her sex, found no relief from any medicine she had ever used, until she began the use of Favorite Remedy, and that cured her. I havn't language to express the high esteem in which we hold Favorite Remedy; I have recommended it to dozens of people about here, and in no instance has it failed to benefit and cure.

Yours truly, HENRY C. OWEN.

The above letter was so remarkable as to be worthy of the fullest investigation, and the Blade determined to place the facts before the public for the benefit of other sufferers, and if unfounded, to let their readers know it. With these instructions a reporter was sent to the residence of Mr. Owen. In response to a ring of the door-bell, a lady appeared who proved to be Mrs. Owen. When your reporter made his mission known, Mrs. Owen said she would gladly tell him about the good Favorite Remedy has been to their family. "For years Mr. Owen had been the victim of gall stones, complicated with kidney trouble and gravel in the bladder," said Mrs. Owen. "In spite of the efforts of physicians he did not improve in the least. I, to, had suffered for years with sickness peculiar to women, and one day I clipped from a newspaper, an article referring to Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I told my husband that I thought it would help my trouble, and we immediately bought a bottle I did not take many doses before I noticed improvement and then I suggested to my husband to try the remedy for his sickness.

He did so, and he felt the effects almost like magic. Mr. Owen continued to use Favorite Remedy until he has become permanently cured." Before going into further detail, it might be well to give in Mr. Owen's own words, a statement as to what it did for him Mr. Owen who is a man of about 42 years of age, with hair tinged with gray, was found at work as foreman for the Chasbrough Bros.' Lumber Company, and in response to an inquiry as to the merits of Favorite Remedy and the genuineness of the letter published, Mr. Owen said: "I have not language to express the high esteem in which I hold Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy. I suffered for years with kidney trouble and gall stones; at times I endured pains which seemed almost unbearable. I used various prescriptions, and like everyone who is sick, took everything that my friends suggested. At last my wife told me of the good Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy had done her, and I concluded to try it. I used it and it cured me, and there is no mistake about that. I can refer you to many of our neigebors who have used it with the same results. One young man a friend of mine, had been sick for months and was doctoring with one of these $5 a week physicians. They did him no good, and I told him about Favorite Remedy. He had paid for a week's treatment, but left them and followed my directions, I saw him some days afterward, and he was feeling better and thanked me for my advice."

Mrs Owen has a similar story to relate. No human tongue can tell how she suffered, until she commenced to use Favorite Remedy. She had doctored with several physicians, and was about to give up in despair when this came to her relief. I am confident, that if she had not taken Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, she would have been in her grave to-day."

Mr. Owen has lived in Toledo, and has been the head man at Chesbrough Bros' for years, and is prominently connected with the East Side M. E. Church. In communicating to the reporter in reference to his trouble, Mr. Owen said further that the pain he had was a boring, lacerating character, and radiated through the abdomen and chest. He complained, when ill, of intense nausea accompanying the pain at first, the food being thrown up but presently, after repeated retching, only some mucus acid and watery matter were expelled from his stomach. The action of the heart was feeble, and the circulation was correspondingly depressed. The duration of the seizure varied from a few hours to several days. "I am now," said Mr. Owen, "a perfectly well man; if it had not been for Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy I don't know what the present condition of Mrs. Owen and myself would have been."

Mr. and Mrs. Owen's friends and neighbors confirm the accounts of their sickness and their remarkable recovery, and it was also found that there were many other people in their vicinity who had been cured of various ailments by using Favorite Remedy. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is an unfailing specific for Bright's disease, kidney, liver and urinary complaints, rheumatism, gravel, stone in the bladder and sick-headache. It will cure the most obstinate case of constipation. In cases of neuralgia, or painful diseases, inflammation of the liver, dyspepsia, skin diseases, jaundice, gastrils, loss of appetite sleeplessness, nervousness or blood disease, and female irregularities, it has cured where all else failed.

The chief characteristics of Favorite Remedy is its agreeable quality and mild operation on the liver and bowels, absolute freedom from irritating catharic action. Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy can be purchased of any dealer in medicine at one dollar a bottle for five dollars. A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and it never fails to cure when the directions are faithfully carried out.

REPORTS OF THE STRIKE.

News Received from the Various Coal Fields in the Country.

Columbus, O., April 24.—President McBride, of the United Mine Workers, received reports from the various coal fields to-day, the most important of which is the following: "Murphysboro, the supposed key to the situation in southern Illinois, is solid; also the Duquesne district. Everything is favorable and 2,600 men are out. The leaders had little hope of inducing southern Illinois miners to join the strike and this is an unexpected addition to the strike forces.

McBride revises his figures as to the number of miners out to day as follows: Alabama, 8,000; Tennessee and Kentucky 5,000; West Virginia, 2,000; Indiana, 5,000; Ohio, 26,000; Illinois, 27,000; Pennsylvania, 50,000; Indian territory, 2,000; Michigan, 300; Iowa, 1,300.

The following is the substance of the news given out at headquarters to-day.

The Maryland miners will hold a convention to determine whether they will join the strike as a whole or not.

Southern Iowa is all out, but the miners of the state will meet at Albia May 2 to decide what action the state organization will take.

The Indian Territory is out solid.

Many miners are out in the New river and Kanawha river districts, but the miners will hold a convention at Charleston, W. Va., to-morrow to agree on united action. The miners of the Wheeling and Moundville district have been offered the wages demanded by the scale, but they have been ordered not to go to work until there is a general settlement of the strike.

There is danger that the miners in West Virginia who have been offered scale wages will accept, and thus weaken the strike at a dangerous place.

What Cured Him?

Disturbed, disturbed; with pain oppressed,
No sleep, no rest; what dreadful pest
Such terrors thus ensnared him?
Dyspepsia all night, all day,
It really seemed had come to stay;
Pray, guess you, then, what cured him?

It was Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That is the great cure for Headache Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Kidney disease, Liver complaint, and general debility. An inactive Liver means poisoned blood; Kidney disorder means poisoned blood; Constipation means poisoned blood. The great antidote for impure blood is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Acting directly upon affected organs, restores them to their normal condition. The "Discovery" is guaranteed to benefit or cure in all cases of disease for which it is recommended, or money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

A Blessing Indeed.

What would this poor, weak humanity do were it not for those strong, noble, restless spirits who are ever searching the caverns of knowledge for the good of mankind? Dr. Greene, of 35 W 14th Street New York, who a few years ago gave to the world that princeless boon, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy has now introduced another blessing for the sick and suffering. He is the most successful specialist in curing all nervous and chronic diseases, and he offers to everyone, far and near, the opportunity of consulting him, free of charge, through his system of letter corresondence.

Write him about your complaint and send for his sysmptom blank, and he will return you an exact explanation of your case with advice, free of charge, and tell you how you can be cured. He gives most careful and explicit attention to all letters, and his answer always gives the sufferer a perfect understanding of the disease. If you wish to avail yourself of this great physician's skill, write him at once about your disease and you will undoubtedly be cured.

GENERAL KELLY'S ARMY.

Neola, Iowa, Citizens Give the Marchers a Hearty Welcome.

NEOLA, Iowa, April 22.—According to orders, bright and early this morning General Kelly's army bade good bye to Weston and started on foot on the march eastward and at 4.30 this afternoon it arrived in this village. General Kelly's forces were met at the outskirts of the town by a procession of juvenile militia and men and women from the town, bearing flags, and Mayor Johnson with the members of the town council and a committee of representative citizens, who all joined in according to the army a hearty greeting and welcomed its members as the city's guests. The farmers will supply provisions enough to carry the industrials as far as Avona and the army will leave in the wagons of the farmers at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning. The army is quartered in a little grove east of the city. Arrangements have been make by which all will be sheltered. Mayor Johnson in a few brief remarks gave the Kellyites the freedom of the town. General Kelly held a reception this evening and was given kind words by many of the prominent men of the town and neighborhood. Liberal contributions of money were given the army. The citizens of this place are strong in their denunciations of the officials of the railroads for their refusal to furnish a train for the army.

During a meeting last night Judge Hubbard was severely scored for his policy and after the meeting indignant citizens hung the judge in effigy on one of the principal streets of the town. At Underwood four women who had grown enthusiastic in the cause joined in the march and walked at the side of the column all the way to this city. Edna Harper, the Omaha woman who made herself prominent at the time of the seizure of the locomotive in the transfer yards, has joined the army in the capacity of a correspondent.

Murderers Convicted.

Tavares, Fla., April 21.—Jenkins, McRae and Clinton have been found guilty of the Packwood murders, though in the case of Clinton the jury made a recommendation of mercy. The verdict was a surprise. Those who have followed the trial closely were of the opinion that either a mistrial or an acquittal would be the outcome.

Jenkins is half Indian and half negro, while McRae and Clinton are members of respectable white families in Volusia county, this State. The murders, which are the most horrible on record in Florida, were committed near New Smyna Volusia county, over two years ago. The victims were Miss Bruce, Mrs. Hatch, Bonnie Hatch and Frank C. Packwood, the two latter being little boys about 5 years old. Miss Bruce was a sister-in-law of Frank J. Packwood, at whose home the murders were committed.

Packwood was absent and Mrs. Hatch with her boy was keeping Miss Bruce and Frank Packwood company over night. An autopsy showed that Miss Bruce and Mrs. Hatch had been ravished and that the latter was about to become a mother. The theory of the State was that Jenkins, McRae and Clinton ravished the ladies and then killed them to prevent the outrage being discovered.

The Coxey Army.

Hagerstown, Md., April 22.—Coxey has gone from the army and Browne is preparing with very ill grace to receive him on his return. It is possible that from Frederick to Washington the route originally selected will be changed. This however, Browne says, depends on information that he expects to-night. If the statement means anything, it almost certainly means that large reinforcements have been secured to join the army between here and Washington, possibly a juncture by rail with some of the big western bands, or the centralization of a number of smaller bands that are said to be waiting between Frederick and Rockville. But if Browne is dallying to await the return of Coxey, it is equally certain that the last hope of a big demonstration is ended, and that a dispirited lot of homesick idlers will be dispersed in a few days on the confines of Washington.

Kane to Boom.

Kane is having a boom, remarks the Warren Mirror. The people of that town hustled around in three days raised $8,000 as a bonus for a new glass plant. The Kanecites paid the company a bonus of $5,000 cash and purchased land and gas well. In addition to this the citizens promptly subscribed 20,000 shares in the enterprise. Builders assert they have arranged to put up 200 new houses this summer and everybody in Kane is prepared to welcome the promised boom.

An Engineer Blamed.

Williamsport, Pa., April 23.—The coroner's jury investigating the terrible accident on the Williamsport and North branch railroad on Saturday, rendered a verdict this afternoon holding Engineer Hessler responsible for the accident. It was ascertained that he was running in conflict with his orders and that he was guilty of the grossest carelessness in the management of his engine. Hessler was arrested at once on the charge of involuntary manslaughter and brought to this city. Judge Metzger fixed his bail at $1,000, which was furnished. Mr. McClenathan, one of the victims, is lying at the point of death. Mrs. Bailey is improving. Miss Welch, who was instantly killed, will be buried on Wednesday.

Coxey Wasn't Satisfied.

New York, April 23.—General Coxey was not satisfied with the prices which his high bred horses brought to-day. They were sold at Madison Square Garden.

The highest figure was $400 for New Castle, a chestnut gelding, with a record of 2.32½. The next highest price was paid for Aunt Margaret and Gertie C. which were sold in a team to Miss Essie H. Spanton, who paid $755 for them.

General Coxey said that none of the horses would have brought less than $1,000 two years ago.

"I expectad an average of $500 each in these hard times, and must say I am a little disappointed at the prices they brought."

Coxey leaves at midnight to rejoin his army in Maryland.

IN THE TEMPLE OF JUSTICE.

What is Being Done in the Court of Quarter Session.

Court convened at 9.30 o'clock this morning with Judge Furst on the bench and Associate Riley beside him, Associate Faulkner not yet having arrived. The grand Jury were called and sworn and W. H. Musser appointed foreman. The Judge charged them as to their duties, they were given the necessary instructions and retired.

A petition to vacate a certain road in Howard and Curtin townships was presented. There was also presented a petition and remonstrance against it. The viewers vacated a portion of the road in Howard township.

Attorney J. M. Dale presented the report of the viewers appointed to locate a bridge connecting Clearfield and Centre counties.

The list of Traverse jurors was called and those present answered to their names. John Moore, W. L. Foster, Wm. Dinwiddie and James Goss presented very good reasons and asked to be excused from attendance as jurors, which was so ordered. Mr. Johnstonbaugh, of Patton township reported that his jury notice stated the 23rd whereas he was drawn for second week of court. The Judge gave him one day's pay and instructed him to report next Monday.

The reports of the constables throughout the county were then received.

John Kline, Esq., presented a petition for the release from jail of Wm. Hall and Samuel Shader. They were discharged under the insolvent law.

The first bill returned by the grand jury and the first case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. Malvina Fink, charged with formication. District Attorney W. J. Singer conducted the case for the Commonwealth and E. R. Chambers for the defendant. Attorney Chambers found fault with the indictment because it named no co-respondent, but the fact of the birth of the child was evidence sufficient for the charge.

Catherine McCrady, the constable who returned the case, Vinton Beckwith, and Samuel Hoover all testified that the defendant was a single woman and had given birth to a male child last October.

The arguments in the case were brief. The Judge in his charge said that in an experience of thirty years at the bar and on the bench, he had never known a case where a woman had been brought before the court for this crime. Men had always had to answer to this charge, but women had escaped. The crime was very prevalent throughout the county, and if anything could be done to check it, it was the duty of the Court and Jury to have it done but, of course, it must be done under the evidence in each particular case. The jury then retired.

Witmer Wolf was excused from duty as a grand juror until Tuesday morning.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. W. F. Richard was called and W. E. Gray, Esq., appointed to defend the prisoner.

Court then adjourned until 1.45 o'clock in the afternoon.

On the convening of Court Monday afternoon the case of Commonwealth vs W. F. Richards, charged with wilfully and maliciously cutting timber on lands of another, was taken up.

The jury in the case against Malvina Fink returned a verdict of guilty.

The appraisement of the estate of John M. Wagner deceased was offered for confirmation, subject to any just cause to the contrary shown by the heirs.

Joseph Forsman was the first witness called in the case against Richards, whose testimony was in brief as follows:

Live in Rush township and am agent for the Philipsburg Coal & Land company; am familiar with the location of their lands, have a draft of them; (draft shown and offered in evidence.) I was with the surveyor when the lands were surveyed; have often been over the Matthias Slough tract, it contains 510 acres; was over it in March, saw trees cut and followed the track down to a mill. Some of them were cut into shingle bolts. The tracks led to Flat Rock mills. I met Mr. Richards and he said he cut some pine trees at Bounding hollow; he found a tree lying down and cut some logs off it, as he wanted some shingle bolts. He also admitted cutting trees at the burned cabins, which is on the lands of the Philipsburg Coal and Iron company. I found the logs near Flat Rock mills—two fine logs about ten feet long.

P. Richard, of Taylor township, testified to having assisted the defendant in hauling the logs. There were two green trees and one dead one.

W. A. Ream, of Oscola, corrobrated the evidence of Mr. Forsman. This was the sum of the evidence. Harry Keller, Esq., made the closing argument for the Commonwealth, and the jury, after a very brief deliberation returned a verdict of not guilty, the prosecutor to pay three-fourths and the defendant one-fourth the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Christ McGinley, drunk and disorderly. Plead guilty and sentenced to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. William Walker, violation of the fish law. Indictment defective.

The next case called was that of the Commonwealth vs. A. C. Williams; assault and battery. District attorney Singer conducted the case for the Commonwealth and John G. Love, Esq., was attorney for the defendant. Mr. A. C. Hartsock, of Martha, was the prosecutor in this case. He testified that it was while talking politics at the station on January 24, that the assault occurred. Hartsock alleged that Williams interfered in a private conversation and further admitted that he called Williams a liar several times when Williams hit him with a stick, cutting his head and knocking out some teeth. Hartsock denied having made threats only that he told Williams if he wanted to he could tramp several like him into the ground. Hartsock is a prohibitionist and Williams a republican.

Mr. Hartsock's testimony was corrobrated in detail by John I. Thompson, John D. Wagner and Charles Frain, which closed the evidence for the Commonwealth.

In his own defense Williams admitted the striking, but said it was with his fist; and it was while in direct conversation with Hartsock that the latter called him a liar and he hit him. Williams' testimony was corrobrated by Samuel Steele.

Court adjourned till 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

TUESDAY MORNING.

On the convening of court Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., presented a petition numerously signed by citizens of Howard, Liberty and Curtin townships asking the appointment of viewers to ascertain and establish the dividing line of these townships. The Court appointed D. W. Pletcher, surveyor; Jonathan Schenck and David B. DeLong viewers.

The case of Commonwealth vs. William Walker, violation of the fish laws, was then taken up. The Commonwealth produced some evidence to show that Walker had fished with nets, etc., which is clearly against the law. After consultation with his attorney, John Kline, Esq., Walker plead guilty. He was sentenced by the Court to pay a fine of $100 and costs of prosecution, to surrender all his nets, etc., and remain in the custody of the sheriff until sentence was complied with.

Commonwealth vs. James Cornelius, receiving stolen goods. Defendant plead guilty. His attorney, W. C. Heinle, Esq., asked the leniency of the Court on the promise of good behavior in the future. Sentence reserved for the present.

The next case taken up was that of the Commonwealth vs. J. M. Thompson, assault and battery. Gen. Beaver and Clement Dale, Esq., assisted district Attorney Singer in the prosecution and W. D. Crosby and C. M. Bower had the case in charge for the defendant. This case was brought by the parents of Nettie Bathgate against the defendant, who while a teacher in the South Philipsburg school, severely whipped the girl.

Nettie Bathgate was the first witness called. Live in South Philipsburg; was a pupil in the school there; the teacher was James M. Thompson; was a pupil until January 31, 1894; the teacher then whipped me; struck me and made nine or ten marks on my back; he struck me on the neck and made a lump which is still there; I put up my hand and he cut it so it bled; when I went to school in the morning he sent me home to get an excuse; it was deep snow but I went home and got an excuse for being late and absent, he then told me to get my physiology lesson and I said I did not know where it was; he told me to go to Minnie Love and she would show me; I said I thought my excuse should relieve me of this lesson. He then came to me with a rod and struck me. I was fifteen years old last September. I told him I did not think it was right for me to get a lesson which was over when I had an excuse; he said he would see. The lump was not on my neck before he struck me, (shows the lump.) I went home at once after the whipping, which was between 9 and 10 o'clock. Mr. Johnston, Mr. Frank and Mr. Kennedy, president of the school board, came up to see me and I went back to school but afterwards stopped and did not go any more. I never was asked to bring an excuse that I failed to do so. I always went to school in Philipsburg and never had any trouble. When I left he (Thompson) said I could go and stay.

William Bates, a class mate of Nettie's, corroborated the above testimony and further stated that although he had missed the same lesson he was not asked to make it up. The rod used was described by Bates as a black alder about three or four feet long, which broke while Thompson was using it.

Minnie Love testified to seeing the strokes on hand and neck and the blood. Some of the splinters from the broken rod fell on my desk. Nettie asked me where the lesson was but I did not have time to show her.

Samuel Johnson testified that while passing the school house he heard the whipping. As I started to go away I heard someone crying. Nettie came along, her hand was bleeding. I walked home with her and saw the marks on her body, they were very red. I afterwards had a talk with Mr. Thompson.

Charles Frank also testified to seeing the whipping and the marks on the girl's body.

Elizabeth Laws also testified to seeing the marks on Miss Nettie's back and shoulders.

Mrs. Bathgate, Nettie's mother testified. I went to the school to see the teacher. I talked with him some about the matter but he would say very little to me. Commonwealth rests.

Mr. Crosby opened the case for the defense.

J. M. Thompson called. Live at South Philipsburg. Have taught for ten years and am now teaching at that place. Know this girl; she went to school very irregularly for four months. She has not always furnished excuses. She came this morning without an excuse—she was down for three. I sent her back and she was gone about 25 minutes. There was some snow, about eight inches, but there is a boardwalk to her home. I told her to prepare her lesson and I would hear her after school or some other time. She said she would not; she also delivered her excuse to me in an insolent manner I told her to go to Minnie Love to find out where the lesson was. I gave her a few strokes, supposing she would be obedient, but she started for home. She said I was a brute and she would make it very dear for me. I was not angry when I whipped her—I only punished her to correct her.

John A. Fleck testified to seeing Thompson strike but three blows. He could not recognize the rod shown as the one used. Charles Holt corrobrated Fleck's testimony.

Mrs. Viola Simmons called. Live at South Philipsburg next door to Bathgates. Was asked to come, and was shown Nettie's shoulders and back, not more than three that I saw.

Court then adjourned till 1.45 in the afternoon.

On the convening of court Tuesday afternoon the case against J. M. Thompson was resumed and completed without eliciting anything further of a startling nature. The jury returned a verdict of "not guilty" but defendant to pay one-half the costs and Nettie Bathgate and Mr. Kennedy, president of the school board, to pay the other half.

In the case of the Commonwealth vs, Robert Bloom, f. and b., prisoner plead guilty and the usual sentence was imposed.

Commonwealth vs. John Bierly, f. and b. Plead guilty and given the customary sentence prescribed by law.

Commonwealth vs. Abraham Jackson, malicious mischief. C. M. Bower assisted in the prosecution and John G. Love and W. E. Gray, Esqs., took good care of the defendant. The prosecutor in this case was Thomas Meyer. The whole thing was a dispute over a line and when the Court heard some of the evidence he dismissed the case as being too trivial; and also as being brought under a wrong indictment. The verdict, therefor, was not guilty, and county to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Alfred Devine Richard Riley and Martin Riley, assault and battery. W. F. Reeder assisted the district attorney in the prosecution and C. M. Bower conducted the defense. The assault in this case was made on William Benner, a policeman in the borough of Philipsburg, on the evening of the 12th of March. Policeman Benner was badly cut in the face, his upper lip requiring seven stitches to put it in good shape.

The evidence in this case was not all in when court adjourned until 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

The case of Commonwealth vs. Alfred Divine, Richard Riley and Martin Riley was taken up on the convening of court at 9 o'clock. The Commonwealth failed to establish a case of assault against the young men.

In their own defense the young men testified that they had not seen officer Benner on the night referred to. Their testimony was corroborated by Edward O. Roke, Harry Smith, Howard McMonigal, Charles Ashcroft and Mr. Pearson. Some of the witnesses, who had seen Benner fall that evening, giving it as their opinion that he was intoxicated. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and the prosecutor to pay the costs.

The Commonwealth vs. Alfred Stewart, for appropriating money to his own use which did not belong to him, was the next case taken up. Isaac Haupt was the prosecutor. W. J. Singer was attorney for the Commonwealth and E. R. Chambers for the defense.

Isaac Haupt called and sworn. Live on Thomas street, Bellefonte. I was in Glenn's photograph car on the 2nd of April. Glenn, my son and I were in the car; had a package in an envelope in my pocket with seventeen dollars in money; gave my son two dollars. The fives were new, the others some worn. I went out of the car towards home on north side of High street, and lost my money—never saw it after I left the car. Some little girls gave me one letter that was in the envelope. I missed the money the next day, in the afternoon.

Newton Haupt called. Was in Glenn's car on April 2nd. Got two dollars from father there to buy feed with. He had his money in a large envelope. I saw that he had other money in the envelope.

Gracie Ryan called. Am ten years old. Live on Thomas street. On my way home from school on April 2 went past Glenn's Gallery; found some money on the street between Glenn's and Straub's. The money was out of the envelope. I asked that man if it was his and he said it was. I handed him the papers and Marcella Adams gave him the money; he took the money and went down Thomas street.

Jennie Gross. Live on Logan street. Go to school at the brick building. On April 2 I went down High street and met Gracie Ryan near Glenn's gallery. She found some money and said to me, "See what I have found." There was a man near and I handed him the money; he said it was his and thanked me. He was standing on Smith's steps. He said "thank you, dear; I am glad you found it." This was between four and five o'clock.

John Shaddle called. Live in Bellefonte and drive team for Rhoads. Was passing along Thomas street and noticed a man walking along with papers in his hand. He had paper money and an envelope in his hand.

A. Melford called. Live on Lamb street my wife keeps boarders. This man was stopping there on April 2nd. I heard a conversation between Stewart and his companion in which Stewart said he had knocked down five dollars. Said his friend "I will bet you a dollar you can't show five dollars." Stewart went and got a five dollar bill and laid it in my wife's lap.

Court adjourned till 1.30 p. m.

Hezekiah's Surprise.

"Wal, Hiram, if this don't beat all! The old way for doctors was 'kill er cure,' but here I've found a piece in this here newspaper where a doctor offers 'cash er cure.' It's fer catarrh! I wish we had it—I'd like to try him! Jest listen, Hiram! 'The proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy offer a reward of $500 for any case of catarrh which they cannot cure.' That beats all lotteries hollow! The medicine costs 50 cents—your catarrh is cured, er you get $500! Where's my hat? I'm going right over neighbor Brown, to show him. I never wanted to get within ten foot of him before, but if it is the cure of his catarrh, I guess I can stand it onc't." Sold by druggists.

Coxe and the Governorship.

It was announced recently that Eckley B. Coxe was in training by the anti-administration forces of Pennsylvania to be made the Democratic candidate for Governor, but Mr. Coxe has unceremoniously exploded the scheme by saying that he is not, and will not be a candidate for the office.

There are doubtless two reasons why Mr. Coxe won't accept the Democratic nomination for Governor. First, he doesn't want to be defeated, and, second, he doesn't want to be elected. Important as are the duties of the Gubernatorial office he has what are to him very much more important duties in managing his large private business affairs. He has no ambition for political preferment, and has never been made a candidate for any office by his own efforts, and he is not likely to change in that particular.

If Eckley B. Coxe could be prevailed upon to accept the Democratic nomination for Governor there is little doubt that neither the anti-administration men nor the administration men would stop to inquire with which particular interest he is in greatest sympathy. He is one of the big, broad gauge men of the State who is competent to fill any position within the gift of Pennsylvania, and we have no man in either party who would make a safer Chief Magistrate; but he doesn't want the office, and he certainly doesn't want to be nominated to be crucified by Democratic follies in Washington. It is safe, therefore, to count Mr. Coxe as not in the Gubernatorial race.

Getting Rid of Rats.

An Ohio farmer, writing to the American Agriculturist, says: "On the barn floor I placed a thirty-six gallon kettle filled half full of rye. A plank six feet long led from the floor to the top of the kettle. The rye was left in the kettle for about a fortnight, until the rats had become thoroughly familiar with the kettle and were making it the headquarters for their nightly revels, with seeming confidence that no harm was intended, when very treacherously, one evening, water was substituted for the grain, and a half-inch of chaff from the barn floor concealed the water. The result was that twenty-one drowned rats were forked out the first morning and sixty-two within a week, and after that no rats were seen for a year.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

SURPRISING FIGURES.

The Extent of Advertising Done by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company.

Some idea of the importance of the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., as a Lynn enterprise, may be estimated by the amount of advertising which is placed by them in the leading newspapers of America. Advertising is in their line one of the surest gauges by which to judge the extent of their business.

The newspaper advertising of this famous concern is all placed through the advertising agency of Pettingill & Co., Boston, and the writer recently learned while in their offices that eight tons of electrotypes were shipped by them to the newspapers in one day, all of which were advertisements of the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Some idea of the extent of such advertising can be formed when one considers the fact that a 5-inch electrotype weighs but a few ounces, and that eight tons consists of 256,000 ounces, or an amount sufficient to furnish all the leading publications of America with more than five electrotypes each.

As a Lynn enterprise the Pinkham Medicine Co. stands in the front rank. (From the Lynn Item.

Marriage Licenses.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

Charles C. Garris, of Milesburg, and Edith A. Mitchell, of Jeanette.

Elmer Corl, of Ferguson township, and Maggie Holderman, of State College.

E. G. Matts, of Patton twp,, and Mary Gingery, of Hutson,

James R. Hooton, of Philipsburg, and Ethel Merrill, of Munson.

Wesley Eminhizer and Susan E. Turney both of Howard.

—On Monday of last week when Mr. Jacob Runkle was at the Leonard House in Clearfield, he got up in the morning and on going to the office to get his overcoat found that it was missing. All search failed to discover the coat and Jacob had to go on without it. Tuesday of this week he received a letter from the Commercial House, of Dubois, stating that his overcoat was hanging in thier office and inquiring what should be done with it. The only conclusion to arrive at is that some fellow who had none simply took Jake's coat to wear from Clearfield to Dubois and then left it there.

You Get Strong, if you're a tired-out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the only medicine that's guaranteed. If it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, your money is returned. On these terms, what else can be "just as good" for you to buy?

The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor.

For ulcerations, displacements, bearing-down sensations, periodical pains, and every chronic weakness or irregularity, it's a remedy that safely, and permanently cures.

Can be counted on to cure Catarrh—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's nothing new. For 25 years it has been doing that very thing. It gives prompt and complete relief.

KILLED IN A RIOT.

Collision Between Striking Poles and a Sheriff.

Detroit, Mich., April 18.—Wayne county's sheriff lies in a precarious condition to-night, his body lacerated by the shovels of enraged rioters. Two Polish laborers are dead and the number injured is not yet definitely known. These unfortunate conditions are the result of a conflict which occurred at noon to-day between some 400 Poles and Sheriff Collins and five of his deputies. The riot was brought about by differences of opinion over the wages to be paid laborers by the city water commissioners for digging trenches for pipe laying in Grosse Pointe township, just east of the city limits.

The commissioners decided to pay by the cubic yard, but for the past day or two 300 Poles had hung about the vicinity, declaring they would neither work themselves nor allow others to work, unless paid $1.50 per day. No actual outbreak was anticipated, but as a precaution Sheriff Collins and five deputies went to the scene to protect those who wished to work. Work progressed on a small scale during the morning, but Engineer Williams, becoming alarmed at the aspect of things, consulted some of the commissioners shortly before noon and was instructed to quit work for the time being. Before he returned, however, rioting began. Sheriff Collins and Deputy Steyskal, after telephoning for reinforcements, began to address the mob to pacify them. One of the Police began an opposition harangue. The crowd thereupon started to annihilate the officers and the handful of laborers at work. At the advance the officers drew revolvers and fired over the strikers' heads, but the mob came on and the next volley was discharged into the crowd. Then the officers retreated slowly, firing as they went. Still the mob followed, one man dealing the sheriff a vicious blow on the head with his shovel. The other officers, the workers and an Evening News reporter escaped, all being more or less pounded with shovels, but the helpless sheriff was brutally attacked. The mob then scattered leaving the sheriff unconscious on the field.

Two of the Poles were found dead, John Pielnt, and a comrade, name unknown.

The injured are: Sheriff Collins; Deputy Steyskal, cut and bruised; Michael Kanofski, shot, will probably die; unknown Pole; Tony Gerkewiak, shot in thigh; Quadrupaki, shot in breast; Detective W. H. Burch, ribs broken; Joe Jabowski, bullet wound in breast. John R. Fisher, an Evening News reporter, was badly bruised.

They are probably several other Poles injured. Sheriff Collins gained consciousness shortly after 2 o'clock. He had a bad gash on the head, several painful cuts and bruises about the body and almost bled to death from a lacerated leg. His physician reported to night that he would probably pull through.

During the afternoon some twenty Poles were arrested, which intensified the bitterness, and this evening the situation is being vindictively discussed by crowds of Poles in various parts of the city. It is rumored that they will attack the jail to-night, but this is not believed. Extra officers are on duty to preserve the peace whatever may occur. Many more arrests are expected but it is difficult to identify the leaders in the riot. The water commissioners will probably not recede from their position, but work will proceed, if at all, under a strong guard.

Gaylord Mine Disaster Verdict.

WILKESBARRE, April 18.—The coroner's jury which has been investigating the Gaylord mine disaster for ten days past completed its work tonight by returning the following verdict.

"The jury finds that the thirteen entombed miners at the Gaylord mine came to their death through an error of judgment on the part of one or more persons in charge of the party, who lost their lives thereby, and remaining too long in a place that appears to the jury must have been plainly dangerous for some hours prior to the cave. The cause of the cave is in our judgment due to the insufficient size of the pillars left in the red ash vein, which were further reduced in size by the chipping of the pillars due to atmospheric causes and the shocks due to shots or blasts fired in the overlying veins.

"The jury recommends that the next legislature amend the present mine laws (if it be possible) so as to prevent mine laws and laborers from going or being sent into such places as make possible such catastrophes as that under consideration."

Crowds Greet The Emperor.

Coburg, April 18.—Emporer Williams arrived here this evening. All the princes in the city went in full uniform to the station to meet him. After the customary embraces and kisses, the emperor inspected the guard of honor. He rode in a carriage with the prince of Wales and the duke of Sax Coburg-Gotha, to the castle. Enormous crowds along the route cheered him enthusiastically while the guns at the castle fired a salute. The weather is perfect. All the houses in the city are brilliantly illuminated and the public resorts are crowded.

Preparing For The Strike.

Philipsburg, Pa., April 18.—This week's output of coal from the Clearfield and Beech Creek region is likely to surprise any previous week's output, and is the result of the determination of the miners throughout Central Pennsylvania to suspend work at noon next Saturday. The duration of the strike in these regions depends upon whether or not the miners in the Maryland and Virginia and other competing regions obey the call to suspend work. Should they do so the strike will be a long one, unless the operators restore the 20 per cent. reduction in wages recently made.

A More Effectual Punishment.

The lynching Sunday night at Rushsylvania, O., inflicted death for a man guilty of his second offence, the last on an old woman 81 years of age.

The experience of a number of trials over a generation ago showed that juries would not inflict the punishment of death for this crime, although mobs will, and the penalty was changed to imprisonment in most Northern States. This has proved comparatively valueless in deterring criminals or protecting women from a fate worse than death itself.

Current public opinion would unquestionably sanction a return to the death penalty and it is probable that more juries would inflict this punishment now than in the past; but twelve men in a box always have and probably always will hesitate at a verdict which brings a death penalty. The surgeon's knife would probably prove a more deterrent punishment in offenses of this character than the hangman's rope. It is a punishment which would be more promptly inflicted by the average jury. It would appeal with a singular and special power to the imaginations of the besotted and brutal, and pursued with sufficient systematic severity it would exterminate this diseases strain and rid the community of these monsters for the future as well as rendering them harmless for the present.

The community is probably not yet ready for this simple and effectual but drastic remedy. It may easily be one of the first penal statutes due to the introduction of female suffrage. But it will not take many cases of a second offense to bring the public to believe that this crime is one which no criminal should be allowed to attempt twice.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Cutaway Jackets: New Overskirts: New Cottons; Ways Of Making: Parasols.

To meet Fashion's constant demand for variety, new serge or wool jackets, have cutaway fronts and are somewhat shorter than those of last season, or where cotton materials are used, the extreme coat bodice length is admissible. A last season's blue serge jacket may be easily modernized by rounding the fronts, shortening the skirt three or four inches, putting on a full, black moire collar, quite deep on the shoulders, moire cuffs and pocket flaps. Duck linen or pique suits are made in the plainest possible manner, short, cutaway jackets, full at the back however, vests and linen skirt fronts, with a four-in-hand or any other masculine-looking tie.

SEVERAL NEW STYLES OF OVERSKIRTS

have been introduced at late openings, one of which belonging to a changeable silk costume, opens down the front in points to the bottom of the skirt, edged and trimmed with white lace, the back arranged in one point; another is entirely of scroll pattern lace, sewed on a plain dark blue percale, simulating a deep apron front; but the most daring innovation, is observable in a striped crepon overskirt scarcely reaching the knee made up of full puffings, set to four white embroidered bands. A second puffed overskirt is drawn on cords, the lower skirt cut in points over a facing, and edged by narrow lace. A pretty way of trimming the skirt of a black or colored muslin in tiny pin head dots on a white ground, is two deep ruffles, each with three rows of No. 1 satin ribbon, at the lower edge, and two on a standing ruffle, which is at the same time a heading; the ribbon and dots corresponding in color. Five ruffles, bordered with narrow lace forms a fashionable skirt, and for misses a muslin skirt with narrow tucks finished by lace, a tucked yoke, risers at back and front and filled sleeves trimmed throughout by narrow lace, is in keeping with youthful freshness. Rosettes of the dress material and not of the trimming are quite a novelty, for the use of which no rule can be given, perched on the shoulders, anywhere around the neck, on the belt or skirt.

BEDOUIN CLOTH, LAPPETTS

and cotton foulards, swell the ever-increasing list of populars cotton, and satines stamped in china figures are very clever imitations of expensive silks. Cotton foulards, in dark serviceable colors, diagonally striped by means of myriads of hair line stripes, with small leaves stamped upon them are charming materials for those who must avoid light colors. Lappets are sheer, pale-hued fabrico, in scroll patterns or flows, with several rows of course zigzag threads running lenthwise, covering the idea of embroidery. Dimities preserve their peculiar attractions against all other wash fabrics, so fine, so dainty at the same time almost beyond the reach of any but the very well-to do classes.

THE POPULARITY OF BLACK MOIRE

is conspicuous in parasols, heavy lace insertion giving an additional richness, and one wide row about midway, with another at the edge, combining insertion and edging is the season's leading style. White and black lace ruffles covering the parasol, prove that the partiality for this combination is not yet exhausted. Changeable silk parasols, bordered by a band of another shade of the same color, are an attractive change, and floral or plain stripes in contrast predominate largely, as they are less expensive than moire. White accordion-plaited chiffon, or white moire parasols edged by Point de Gene lace are dressy styles, well adapted to piazza or carriage use. Fancy woods, china knobs or balls, and white or black enamelled handles are prevailing favorites, some of wood being conspicuously large.

THE PASTILLE CURE FOR NERVOUS DEBILITY TRADE MARK

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1878, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. A postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out, and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

Trade Mark. GRAPE 1 SIZE OF A NORMAL PASTILLE

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

A SENSATIONAL SHOOTING.

A Famil Feud Nearly Terminates in a Double Murder.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 17.—Ex-Attorney General Miller's law office in this city was the scene at noon to-day of a most sensational shooting affray, in which W. R. Copeland, of Madison, Ind., shot Addison C. Harris, a prominent lawyer in this city, and William H. Bruning, of New York, while Mr. Miller miraculously escaped. Two shots took effect in Bruning, one breaking his jaw and the other lodging in his arm. As the third shot was fired Attorney Harris grabbed Copeland and attempted to hold his arm. Just at this instant another shot was fired and Mr. Harris's arm fell to his side, its bone being broken by the shot. Ex-Attorney General Miller was in the private room and appeared a second later and attempted to hold Copeland, but the latter struggled desperately and throwing the ex-attorney general from him, followed Bruning into the front room of the office, firing as he went.

Police Superintendent Powell, who was passing on the street, heard the firing and entered the room. With the assistance of five other men Copeland was thrown on the floor and placed under arrest. Bruning ran at once from the office and went to a doctor's office. In the melee Copeland received a severe cut upon the head, but was not otherwise seriously injured. The cause of the shooting, it is said, was a feud which has existed since 1885 between Copeland and Bruning, his brother-in-law, when Copeland began paying court to Mr. Bruning's sister.

The Bruning family was opposed to the marriage of their daughter to Copeland, but he and the young woman arranged to marry against the will of the parents. Miss Bruning went west, but the family was acquainted of her intentions and prevailed upon her to return home, later giving a reluctant consent to the marriage. Between the husband and brother there was, however, a bitter hatred and when the elder Bruning died, Copeland's wife brought suit to set aside the will.

There followed a short time after another suit against Bruning by Mrs. Copeland to set aside a conveyance of property alleged to have been made by her to her brother under threats to take Copeland's life if she refused. These suits were filed in Madison, but as Bruning is now living in New York they were removed to the federal court on petition of the defendant. Depositions in the cases were taken here today.

Private Trout Streams.

The trout season has been open now for four days and quite a number of trout have been caught. Many persons have put in the best part of the past three days in casting lines along the several streams, while others anticipate spending a day or so in fishing. Most of the streams in this vicinity have been stocked by the state fishery commission, and portions of the streams into which the spawn has been put are claimed as "private streams" by the persons through whose land the water flows. In accordance with an opinion recently handed down in the supreme court by Judge Sterrett, streams are not private unless the fish are propagated, which means that screens must be used in the stream.

In the first place the spawn must be kept separate, then the small fish are put into another screen cell, and so on until they are large enough to take care of themselves. Even then they are to be kept within a large screen cell if the party who raises them want to own them. Only so much of that stream is private as is within the screens placed there by the owner.

The case in question was Benssoter vs. Long, Luzerne county, A continuous stream divided the land of these men. The plaintiff put a lot of small trout into the stream, and when they became large enough the defendant fished them out. Suit was brought and the plaintiff said it was a private stream as the dividing line ran more than half way across the stream. It was shown that the plaintiff did not propagate the fish, but merely put them in to the stream to get along as best they could. No stream is private unless the propagation is carried on as previously stated. A pond surrounded by the owner's land, without any continuous flow, can be called a private pond.

Judge Sterrett in the syllabus of the case says: "If the waters of a pond cover a large surface of land, and a person whose lands are covered only by a part of the water, places fish therein for the purpose of propagation, the pond does not thereby become a private pond, within the meaning of the act of June 3, 1878. Neither is a notice that 'all persons are hereby notified not to trespass on these lands or fish in this pond, under the penalty of the law,' a sufficient notice under the act of June 3, 1878; either to strangers or to neighbors."

He continues that: "The mere placing of fish in a pond, without any improvement whatever for the propagation of fish or of game fish, is insufficient to place the pond within the protection of the act of June 3, 1878.

—Thirty-three years ago Wednesday five companies of Pennsylvania troops marched into the city of Washington—the first defenders—and offered their services to Abraham Lincoln. And Wednesday a few gray haired, maimed and time worn old fellows, the survivors of that gallant band, met in Pottsville to talk over the incidents of that most memorable journey and its result. All glory and honor and peace to them, living and dead. They placed a laurel wreath on the brow of the Keystone State thirty odd years ago, and it is there yet, unfaded and fadeless—the peerless honor of having furnished the first defenders for the continuance of the Government of the people, and for the people and by the people.

A Woman on Women.

Of late years women lay claim to be so much better than men that it is well to investigate the subject and find where their superiority exists. That they ought to be better than men I will admit, for they do not have one tithe of the temptation that men are exposed to. There are women who, no matter how much they were tempted would resist, but they are the exception. Women have the one superiority to boast over men in my opinion; there never was a man who could not be led astray, if the exact temptation was laid before him. A woman will not trust one of her own sex, but men will trust women, and find good and true friends in them. Women are more jealous than men, and more suspicious also. Women have little meannesses that men do not possess. You will notice this in paying car fares, in tipping waiters, and in a number of other different ways. They will hint to men on whom they have no claim to treat them or to buy them gloves flowers, etc., when in many cases prudence would dictate that they should accept no attention from the person. As an evidence of their selfishness, you have only to watch their actions in public conveyances, when a woman spreads herself on a seat never taking the trouble to make room for another passenger who may be looking for a seat.

THE COMPLEXION OF A CHINESE.

Is not yellower than that of an unfortunate individual whose liver complaint has assumed the chronic form. The eyeballs of the sufferer assume a saffron hue, there is dull pain in the region of the organ affected, the tongue is coated, breath sour, sick headaches usually but not always occur, and there is sometimes dizziness on arising from a sitting posture. Constipation and dyspepsia are also attendants of this very common ailment, always in its aggravated form, liable to breed abscesses of the liver, which are very dangerous. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters wholly eradicates it, as well as the troubles complicated with it and which it originates. In chills and fever, a complaint which always yields to the Bitters, the liver is seriously involved. This fine alternative tonic removes costiveness and indigestion, rheumatic, nervous and kidney trouble and debility.

A State College Student Arrested.

A special from State College on Thursday says: This morning Charles E. Bengler, a member of the sophomore class, was arrested on charge of malicious mischief and held under $500 bail for a further hearing next Saturday. Two members of his class, resident property owners, became his bondsmen.

The trouble orignated at an entertainment given in the village last Monday evening, by a lecturer on "Conglomerate Science," by Pro. Beemer, of Pittsburg. Sixty students attended the lecture, and near its close the odor of a noxious gas pervaded the room. The cause of the stench was located in a bottle in the possession of Student Bengler, who, with his chemicals, was promptly ejected from the room. It was thought the matter had been dropped until a constable arrested Bengler this morning.

The charge under which he is held is punishable by a fine, and in case the matter is pushed, the students who attended the lecture will pay whatever fine may be imposed. The lecure was given under the auspices of the village band.

The Chinese as Caterers.

"I once attended a swell Chinese banquet, and was not a little surprised at the way in which some of the delicacies were served," said Walter F. Logan, of Sacramento, Cal., at the Laclede last night. "After we had discussed the more substantial portion of the repast and desert was being served, oranges were placed before each guest, the skins of which had apparently not been broken, yet from which the pulp had in some mysterious manner been removed and four or five different kinds of jelly substituted in its place. The guests expressed a good deal of astonishment as to how such an operation had been accomplished, but their amazement was only increased when a dish of eggs, the shells of which appeared to be perfectly whole, was placed upon the table. Examination showed the contents of the eggs had been removed and the shells filled with nuts and candy. Our host smilingly refused to tell us how such wonderful results had been accomplished, and we left the house completely mystified."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

A STRANGE CAREER CLOSED.

Henry S. Ives, the Young Napoleon of Finance, Dies of Consumption at Asheville, N. C.

New York, April 17.—Henry S. Ives, known as the "Young Napoleon of Finance," died at 7.30 this evening. News reached here in a telegram from Asheville, N. C., stating that his death had occurred near that place. He had been suffering from consumption for some time.

In the spring of 1882 Ives, then 18 years of age, left the Connecticut town of Litchfield to come to New York and seek his fortune. As he had no friends and little education, he was only able to get a place as spittoon cleaner and sweeper, but in 18 months he managed to get a place as clerk at $10 a week in the office of Charles T. Wing, a broker, where he soon became familiar with railroad business in all its details. He left Wing and soon made his first sensational move by creating a corner in the stock of a small telegraph company. He made nothing, however, as the Exchange Governors declared the contracts invalid and checkmated the 19-year-old schemer.

His next move was to secure control of the mineral range, a small but rich line in Minnesota, and as he had only $12,000 and his friends but little, he did this by buying and then hypothecating stock. He at once proceeded to gut the road, and between July, 1885, and December, 1886, he stole nearly $840,000. In January, 1886, he started a banking house, and in the spring of that year, with the assistance of a capitalist, Christopher Meyer, secured, by crooked methods, control of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton. He kept up this kind of work all that summer But his affairs were more rapidly becoming involved when he suddenly appeared as master of the Vandalia road, with its reach treasury to delve into. In about a month he took nearly $2,000,000 and brought the road to the verge of ruin. In July, 1887, misfortune began to gather about him, and soon the crash came.

When his affairs were investigated it was found he had stolen and used in one way and another nearly $6,000,000 and nearly ruined three roads. It took a year to disentangle his affairs, but in July, 1888, he was arrested, but the jury disagreed and he secured his liberty in March, 1890.

—S. I. Snyder, of Clearfield, has been granted a patent for a screw-driver, and Messrs. J. P. Wynn and J. W. Gillespie, of Lock Haven, have just had a new pipe-wrench patented.

—It is said that before the recent rains it was so dry in College township that farmers were compelled to haul water from the well at State College, paying five cents a barrel therefore.

—Surveyor P. Gray Meek in Philadelphia Wednesday confiscated about ninety-five gallons of olive oil, which the Italian bark Emilia Ciampa was endeavoring to smuggle into that port.

—L. H. Guthrie, who just about two years ago, was reported killed on the railroad at Johnstown, has turned up again in this part of the state. Guthrie is an itinerant printer and his home is in Pottsville.

—See notice in another column of the opening of "University Inn" at State College Friday evening. It will likely prove a grand affair socially and, as the public in general is invited, everybody who can go up.

—A young woman by the name of Fanny Huling, has been victimizing the merchants of Renovo and Lock Haven by obtaining goods under false pretense. She was arrested on Friday but was let off by her brother paying all claims.

—Emanuel Noll, the efficient baggage agent for the P. R. R. in this place, with his son was fishing down at Paddy mountain on Saturday. They reported a catch of nineteen nice trout. They had one California Salmon trout thirteen inches in length.

—The county commissioners are having the fountains in the court yard painted. When finished the prevailing colors will be green, white, russet, black and bronze. The McSuley brothers are doing the work and the job when completed will be a very thorough and handsome one.

—The march of improvement has struck Howard street and Mr. W. L. Malin is having his property fixed up in fine style. A new addition is being built on the rear side and the entire house repainted. When completed it will be as handsome as any residence on that street.

—Quite a large crowd went from Bellefonte Friday evening to State College to attend the Assembly given by the class of '94 in the College armory. It proved a success in every particular only that the attendance was not as large as it would have been had the weather been fairer.

—Miss Miriam P. Welch, daughter of General Manager B. G. Welch, of the Williamsport and North Branch railroad, was killed in a collision on that road on Saturday morning. Mr. L. B. McLenathan, who was also badly injured, and Miss Welch, were to have been married on Thursday, the 26th.

—A Conference of Y. M. C. A. College Presidents was held at State College Friday and Saturday of last week. In all there were forty-two delegates present and the Conference was very interesting and, it is believed, will be productive of much good. The principal instructor present was John R. Mott, general secretary of the international Young Men's Christian Association.

—On Saturday morning while in the act of coupling cars at the Coleville depot, Mr. Edward Woods had the misfortune to have his hand caught between the bumpers. Two fingers and part of his hand were badly crushed. Ed. at once came home and received the necessary surgical attendance and is now getting along as well as possible, although it will be some time before he will be able to use his hand.

LAID TO REST.

Funeral of the Late Mrs. James McGarrah—Sketch of Her Life.

The Altoona Tribune of this morning says:

The funeral services of Mrs. J. H. McGarrah were held in the First church, York, Pa., on Wednesday evening at 4 o'clock. Dr. Evans, the presiding elder of the Harrisburg district, had charge of the services and delivered the address. Rev. Richard Hinkle, the successor of Rev. McGarrah, spoke a few words, bearing testimony to the high esteem in which the deceased was held, gathered from more than 100 homes which he had visited since conference.

On Thursday morning the remains were taken to the family burying ground at Manor Hill, Huntingdon county, and laid to rest with her kindred were she often, while living, expressed a desire to be buried.

Mrs. McGarrah was born in Masseyburg, Huntingdon county, Pa., August 8, 1830. She was the daughter of Thomas and Mary Wilson, the sister of Rev. Reuben E. Wilson, and mother-in-law of Rev. J. Ellis Bell, of the Central Pennsylvania conference. She was converted and received into the Methodist Episcopal church in childhood. Being reared in a home frequented by the ministers of the church, she formed a taste, and acquired a fitness for the position of an itinerant minister's wife. In 1851 she was married to Rev. Plumer E. Waters, of the Baltimore conference Methodist Episcopal church who died at Castle Fin, 1857. After remaining a widow for eight years, she was married to Rev. James H. McGarrah, of the Central Pennsylvania conference, 1864.

Mrs. McGarrah was possessed of a cheerful and unselfish disposition. Living a devoted Christian life she contributed greatly to the usefulness and success of each of her husbands in the work of the ministry. About the middle of December last she was attacked with la grippe which developed into pneumonia, greatly aggravating an affection of the heart from which she had suffered for years. Later other unfavorable symptoms appeared, and although it was fondly hoped that with care and skillful treatment she might rally and recover, yet she gradually failed till the end came. Her daughter, Mrs. Bell, of Altoona, has been in attendance for some days in the sick room. The sons, who were at a distance, and who did not arrive in time to witness the death of their mother, had been summoned home some weeks ago when it was thought she could not live. Apprehending that she might not see them again, she took occasion to impress upon them in a most tender and affectionate manner the importance of a Christian life and the great wish that they might meet in heaven. Her last moments were spent in prayer and utterances to God for his care and loving kindness extended to her all through life.

Rev. McGarrah and his son, Olin, will return with Mrs. J. Ellis Bell, his daughter, on Saturday night, where he will rest a week and then take up his residence at Bellefonte, to which place he was assigned as pastor at the last conference. Rev. McGarrah is acknowledged as one of the very best preachers of the conference and the people of Bellefonte are to be congratulated upon having him in their midst.

Death of John B. Lucas.

On Saturday morning at 10.30 o'clock Mr. John B. Lucas died at the residence of his son-in-law, Casper Wicker, 2323 Twelfth avenue Altoona, of paralysis and general debility, after an illness of over one year, he having been confined to his bed four months. The deceased was aged 74 years, 1 month and 21 days, he having been born February 28, 1817, near Curtin, Centre county. He leaves to mourn their loss one brother, Morgan Lucas, of Curtin, Centre county, and the following children: Mrs. Casper Wicker, Mrs. Espy Haden Himstead, of this city; Mrs. L. P. Flickinger, of Charleroi, Pa.; John T. Lucas, of Enslow, Pa., and Mirtlin M. Lucas, of Charleroi, Pa. The deceased was preceded to the grave by his wife by fourteen years, she having died at Homer City. He had an honorable war record, having served during the war of the rebellion in company D. One Hundred and Ninety-second regiment Pennsylvania volunteers. Funeral services were conducted at the residence of Mr. Wicker this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock by Rev. E. T. Swartz, after which the interment was made in Fairview cemetery at Altoona.

Careless Use Of Matches.

Careless use of matches, such as carrying them loose in the vest pocket, letting them lie over bureaus, stands, mantel pieces and other like places in houses, warerooms and workshops, is a practice so common that it is indulged in without regard to public or private safety. Farmers and their employes, who carry loose matches about their person, do not know but they have dropped some of these deadly agents in the hay and may ignite and burn the building or buildings to the ground. Many of the fires charged to incendiaries if traced as they should be would be found to have their origin in the careless use in matches.

"Gazette" Industrial Edition.

The Industrial Edition of the Keystone Gazette which has been in course of preparation by Mr. R. T. McManigle for some time past, was issued on Friday and proves a very interesting as well as handsome paper. It is composed of twelve pages and is entirely taken up with a review of the prominent men of the past and present generations, and a write up of the many and varied business industries of Bellefonte and vicinity. Mr. McManigle is to be congratulated on the success of his undertaking.

High School Students Compelled to Buy Satchels.

When the Bellefonte school board, in accordance with the recent law, furnished the necessary school books for all the students, they passed a resolution requiring all scholars to carry book satchels for the preservation of all books. During the past seven months of the term a large number of the boys have successfully evaded the principal and consequently the enforcement of this resolution, but on Friday morning the crash came and about fifteen boys and six girls were suspended from the High School until they would procure for themselves book satchels.

After going to D. F. Fortney, Esq., the able president of the Board, and hearing the law read, the students repaired to Garman's Store and all bought the required articles. After placing their books in the satchels they secured a large bag and dumped the satchels therein; and then, with many yells, they returned to school. They arrived there just as Miss Laura Waight had a class on the floor but, all unmindful of this fact they unceremoniously dumped the bag on the floor and each student grabbed for his own satchel. Of course this made a great deal of confusion, badly interrupting the recitation. For this act, they all came near being expelled, but were finally left off with an apology.

Railroad Directors Visit State College

On Saturday Robert Frazier, President, and Col. Benson, Francis F. Milne, Henry Wheelan and George H. Wolbert, directors, with Mr. F. H. Thomas, Superintendent, of the Bellefonte Central railroad company made a trip to State College where a meeting was held in the interest of the extension of the road to Pine Grove Mills, a distance of about seven miles. A number of the citizens of that place were present at the meeting. The company agrees that, if the people of Pine Grove will secure the right of way, they will put down the road and operate it. To secure the right-of-way, we are informed, it will be necessary to raise about $2,500. Subscription papers are already being circulated and something over $300 have been subscribed. The extension of the road to Pine Grove would be a boom for that place and the citizens should take hold of the work in earnest if they desire to make it a success.

A Hollow Base Ball Bat.

The inventive crank is once more in the swim, turning out new ideas in the paraphernalia of the game of baseball. A hollow bat is the latest. It is made of regulation wood, and in it are placed two or three heavy iron balls, which slide back and forth in the stick. When a man goes to bat he holds the stick vertical, and the ball rests near his hands, but when he strikes at the ball the weights fly outward by centrifugal force and meet the sphere at the right place. If he hits the horse hide squarely it is good-by ball. It is claimed that the new bat is only about half as heavy as the old style —The young people's society of the Lutheran church had an interesting meeting on Sunday evening at 6.30 o'clock. Mr. G. A. Harbaugh, lately returned from his trip to California, gave by invitation a very interesting description of his trip and observations along the route. The chapel was crowded and during the whole of his recital he received the closest attention. Mr. Harbaugh closed with a very vivid description of an affecting meeting with his aged mother, his brother and sister, whom he had not seen in twenty years. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker with the request that he continue his narration at some future meeting.

Altoona vs. State College.

The Altoona State League club went to State College on Saturday afternoon to cross bats with the College team, expecting to do them up in great style, but only succeeded in tying the score at the end of the ninth inning, by the score of 10 to 10. Owing to their desire to make the train the visitors refused to play off the tie, and the umpire awarded the game to the College team. The features of the game were Greenland's batting and Stuart's fielding for the College and Ross' batting for the visitors.

He Proved A Surprise.

This is the way the Harrisburg correspondent of the Philadelphia Times sizes up Meany as a ball player:

Among those who have agreeably surprised the spectators by their batting is Meany, one of the best pitchers of the club, who distinguished himself in the first game with Syracuse by scoring a home run along the right field foul line, and has given other illustrations of his batting powers. He is not only a hard hitter but an effective pitcher and a capital fielder.

A barn Burned.

On Friday night the large barn of Mr. B. L. Pifer, near Lamar, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. All the grain and hay in it were destroyed but Mr. Pifer succeeded in saving all his stock. Some meat in the barn belonging to Andrew McClintock and Lyman Loveland was also burned. The building was insured in the Grange fire insurance company. The amount of the loss has not been learned.

SOPHOMORES VS. FRESHMEN.

State College Students Engage in Their Annual Flag Battle.

An unusual kind of battle for the Class flag between the Sophomores and Freshmen of State College took place this forenoon in a field over a half-mile from the College. Some time during last night the Freshmen got the flag, fastened it on the top of a forty-foot pole and then thoroughly greased the pole from top to bottom. The pole was then raised in an open field north of the campus. The floating flag was the first thing that caught the vision of the outwitted Sophs this morning and they were anxious to get at it.

After Chapel one hour was given in which to do battle for the emblem and with the College yell and class cries the mob of students went for the pole. Soph after Soph attempted to climb to the flag only to slip down the greased pole. Of course all attempts to cut down the pole were frustrated by the Freshmen and when the hour was up the flag still floated proudly to the breeze and victory was declared with the younger class. Everything passed off as good humoredly as possible and, save for a general debilitated look in clothing, hair etc., there was no injury done anyone.

Feast of the Passover.

Friday evening, towards sunset, the children of Israel in every section of the habitable globe ushered in the leading festival, Passover. It annually commemorates the birth of the Hebrew nation, for on the great night of the 14th of Nisan, millions of Israelites unslaved by Egypt's king, went forth free men from the land ruled by that despot, and made their way to the shores of the Red Sea under the guidance of Moses and Aaron. At this spot they were again delivered by marvelous miracles, wrought by the divine presence. Hence the Passover, also called the Feast of Unleavened Bread, marks one of the greatest epochs in human history, since it tells of the first successful rising for liberty. The celebration occurs annually on the eve of the 15th of Nisan and is observed thereafter eight days, until dark of the 22d of Nisan. The specially distinguished rite is that of eating unleavened bread, which is most strickly enjoined in the divine law during the entire festival, when all leaven is prohibited, and nothing of the five species—wheat, rye, barley, oats and millet—is allowed.

The first two and the last two days of Passover are strictly observed. The intervening days are half holidays. In all houses of worship the Hallet, or Psalms of Praise, are read or sung, and selected sections from the Pentateuch in Exodus and Numbers from Joshua and II and in other portions are read on Passover.

Nickel-in-the-Slot Machines Must Go.

From all over the State comes the decision that the nickel-in-the-slot machine is a device for gambling, hence against the law and, therefore, must go. In Blair county Judge Bell ordered the machines all cleaned out. Judge Metzger did likewise in Lycoming county, and a number of other Judges have followed suit, but it was left for Lock Haven and Bellefonte to display official authority in the ordering out of these machines by the Mayor and Chief Burgess.

Last Friday Burgess W. E. Gray personally notified all stores in Bellefonte in which the slot machine was in use that they would have to go, and they went. On Saturday Mayor Mayer, of Lock Haven, instructed the Chief of Police of that place to have them all removed, which was also done.

Is He a "Faks?"

The Renovo News states that Vivian Gray, who claimed to be a newspaper man from England and who is "beating" his way through the country is a "fake" He was in this city Monday night and was entertained free of charge at the Brockerhoff House. Editor Kinsley says that he has known him for several years and that he has been in the United States at least three or four years. He was at one time a "struggler" for special news on the New York papers.

—On Thursday evening Mr. W. H. Frain and bride passed through Bellefonte on their way to their future home in Altoona. They both seemed very happy, but they had a time of it getting away from Madisonburg. They undertood to drive from there to Coburn to take the train for Bellefonte but found a chain across the road. They then took another route but this was chained and locked and it was only after Wm. made it all right with "the boys" that he was enabled to proceed on his journey.

PERSONAL PENCLINGS.

Miss Emma Murray, of Julian, is visiting friends in this place.

Miss Kate Bullock departed on Monday for a brief visit to Philadelphia.

Rev. G. P. Sarvis is still conducting revival services at the M. E. church in Port Matilda.

Mr. I. D. Frain, the prominent Granger from Marion township, spent Monday in Bellefonte.

Mr. E. C. Humes and son, William P. Humes, departed this morning for a trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Elizabeth Funk, of Hughesville, Lycoming county, is at present visiting friends at Howard.

Ellis L. Orvis, Esq., and wife and Mr. W. E. Terry were three Bellefonters in Lock Haven on Monday.

Col. B. Frank Esbelman and wife, of Lancaster, spent Sunday with Gen. D. H. Hastings and family in this place.

Miss Emma Coo Lewisburg, daughter of Conductor Cooke, of the Lewisburg railroad, is visiting friends in Bellefonte.

Mrs. Dr. Hayes, of this place, and Miss Mazie Foster, of Aaronsburg, are visiting at the home of Mr. John F. Wilson, in Tyrone.

Misses Dern and Bowers, of Altoona, are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Aiken, corner of Bishop and Allegheny streets.

Miss Anna Haley, of Snow Shoe, passed through Bellefonte this afternoon on her way to Millheim, where she will enter Prof. Neff's Academy.

Mr. Boyd A. Musser has been chosen valedictorian by the Senior Class of Pennsylvania State College, for the ensuing commencement in June.

Misses Cora Bowers, Elsie Bonine and Kate Lackey, of Altoona, were three fair maidens who attended the Spring Assembly at State College Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Murray Andrews have returned from their winter's sojourn in Philadelphia and are now domiciled in the Hale residence on Allegheny street.

Col. D. S. Dunham arrived home Saturday evening after spending several days with friends in Howard and vicinity. The Colonel says his mission was not one of pollitics, but simply one for pleasure.

Mr. Scott Miles, of Port Matilda, a brother of treasurer John Q. Miles, spent Tuesday in Bellefonte canvassing for the sale of books. Mr. Miles is a hustling agent and, strange as it may seem, is about the only Miles who is a republican in politics.

Register G. W. Rumberger was fifty-seven years old on Friday and he duly celebrated the event by going up to Unionville to attend an entertainment given by the grammar school of that place He returned this morning and reported having had a very pleasant little time.

Colonel William B. Shortlidge, one of Bellefonte's most prominent citizens, spent Thursday in town, part of it with the editor, who was delighted to have the opportunity of entertaining him. The colonel took a look through Platt, Barber & Co's huge wholesale store, and he expressed great astonishment at the size of the concern, which was much larger than he expected to see.—Philipsburg Ledger.

—There are several parties in and around Bellefonte who are now making it a business to do nothing but fish for trout. These they sell and then take the money thus received and spend it for whiskey with which they get ingloriously drunk. A sample case created considerable disturbance Monday night by raising a cry of "fire" but he finally ended up in the "coop." Such people ought to be kept there most of the time.

—The Lincoln J. Carter "Fast Mail" company held forth at Garman's opera house on Monday evening to a fair sized audience. The company has lost none of its vivacity and earnestness since it was here before and the performance as rendered on Monday evening was certainly deserving of commendation. The scenic and mechanical effects are the best ever seen on a stage.

—The Junior oratorical contest of the Bellefonte High school, which was to have taken place on the 27th, has been postponed until Friday evening, May 4th, when it will be held in the opera house. An admittance fee of 10 cents will be charged and the proceeds will be devoted to the library fund.

—Mr. John P. Harris and Mr. A. J. Cook are two Linn street property owners who are going to improve their residences and surroundings.

THE FRUIT YIELD.

Crop Not Damaged as Badly as Was Expected.

The warm atmosphere and gentle April showers have caused the buds and blossoms on fruit trees to shoot rapidly this week. In this city and immediate vicinity it is believed that the fruit is damaged very little, if any, and that the yield, if no blighting effects are felt during the next few weeks, will be as good as that of former years. From all sections of the country come reports that the fruit crop nowhere will be damaged as much as was feared a few days after the recent storm. Even in Delaware, from which state reports were sent out that the entire peach crop was ruined, statements are now being made these reports were very much exaggerated. A Philadelphia physician named Dr. J. H. Rae returned from the an inspection of his orchard of 4,000 trees, which he made in company with Congressman J. W. Causey. "I did not expect," said Dr. Rae, "to see a live bud. What was my surprise to hear Mr. Causey sing out, 'alive, alive, alive!' immediately my head man repeated the cry, 'alive, alive, dead, dead, alive!' Among twenty varieties all had more or less live buds, and our conclusion was that there would be a good third of a crop. I presume other orchards are in a similar condition, Milford and its vicinity will have from a quarter to a third of a crop."

In Memory of Wm H. Bryson.

The following minute in memory of William H. Bryson, Esq., was adopted by the Bellefonte bar just before adjourning this morning:

The undersigned committee appointed at a meeting of the Centre County Bar Association held April 13th, 1894, to take action relative to the death of William Bryson, Esq., a member of the Bar of Centre county, reports the following minute and resolutions:

MINUTE

William Bryson, Esq., an esteemed member of the Bar of Centre county, died at his residence in Philipsburg, April 12, 1874, in the forty-fifth year of his age. He was born at Minersville, Schuylkill county, June 13, 1849, graduated at Dickinson Seminary, Williamsport, Pa., read law with Hon. Charles R. Buckalew, of Bloomsburg, and was admitted to the bar of Columbia county.

In 1893 he was elected a representative of Columbia county in the State Legislature and served two terms in that capacity, and in the fall of 1886 came to Philipsburg to look after the interests of his brother, James Bryson., Esq., a practicing attorney who had then recently died. He was induced to take up the practice of law there which he continued with success and credit until his death. He was a careful, thoughtful lawyer; warm-hearted and kind, generous and forgiving man, and his death is greatly regretted by the community in which he resided.

RESOLUTIONS

Resolved, That we have heard with sincers regret of the death of William Bryson, a fellow member of our Bar, who by his manly virtues, unassuming deportment and careful attention to business, merited and gained our high esteem.

2nd, That we deeply sympathize with his family and friends in their late bereavement

3rd, That copy of this minute and resolutions be forwarded to the wife of our deceased brother and that the Court be respectfully requested to direct their entry upon the records of the Court.

Respectfully submitted by
JOHN B. LINN,
C. M. BOWER,
E. R. CHAMBERS,
Committee.

Democracy in Session.

In accordance with the call issued by county chairman Ellis L. Orvis, a democratic county meeting was held in the court house on Tuesday evening for the purpose of ratifying the new rules adopted by the county conventions of 1892 and 1893. Mr. C. M. Bower was chosen chairman of the meeting and Charles R. Kurtz and George R. Meek secretaries. The greatest and probably the only change of any consequence was the rule for the holding of the county convention, which changed the time from the second Tuesday in August to the second Tuesday in June. This action was taken so that all delegates for State conventions could be elected the same year and not as heretofore the year before. This rule was ratified by the meeting Tuesday evening.

The county committee also held a meeting on Tuesday and, in accordance with a resolution adopted at the last two county conventions, allowing a representation in congressional, senatorial and judicial conference, on the basis of one delegate to every five hundred democratic votes, apportioned the county into nine delegate districts, as Centre would thus be entitled to nine delegates. This action was also endorsed by the meeting.
